

South Viet Nam May Get U.S. Help In Battling Reds

Washington May Order Armed
Support Against Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering sending U.S. troops to help South Viet Nam fight off Communist attacks, expected to grow stronger when the rainy season ends later this month.

U.S. officials consider South Viet Nam the main target of the Communist drive in Southeast Asia. If the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem should fall, they say, Thailand, Malaya, Burma and Cambodia would be dangerously weakened.

High State Department sources revealed privately Friday that sending troops to South Viet Nam was under consideration.

U. S. Military Budget May Be $50 Billion

May Exceed This Years' Figures by
About $3.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has drawn guidelines for a new military budget that could reach $50 billion—which would reach this year's by about $3.5 billion.

The current military budget—the highest ever passed in peacetime—was increased about $6 billion from last year after President Kennedy ordered an increase in conventional military power to meet the Soviet threat in Berlin and elsewhere in the world.

Tentative Figures
Pentagon sources stressed, however, that any over-all estimate at this stage must be considered extremely tentative. They said the process of distilling and shaping a military budget for the 1963 fiscal year is only now getting under way in earnest. More precise figures may not be arrived at until mid-November, if then.

Kennedy will present the military budget to Congress in January. It will be for the year starting next July.

The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal reported Friday that McNamara had told the services to plan for a $53.71 billion budget and a cut of 147,720 men from the Army, Navy and Air Force. The journal is a nonofficial publication close to the services.

Informed sources told a reporter the $53.71 billion figure is considerably high of the mark.

Red Leaders Take Milder Tone on Crisis

Showdown Between
East and West
Could be Delayed

BERLIN (AP)—An apparent switch from the hard to the soft sell by Communist leaders boosted hopes today for an easing of tension and possible postponement of an East-West showdown on Berlin.

Statements by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht all pointedly avoided reference to a signing this year of the Communist bloc's planned peace treaty with East Germany.

The phrase "this year" so often mentioned by Red chieftains in connection with the treaty plans was shelved in favor of vague terminology. All three statements, issued on the 12th anniversary of East Germany's Communist government, also avoided belligerent phrases.

Admits "Interest"

Western sources speculated that the change in tactics of the time element may have been more than coincidental, in view of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's meetings with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Berlin.

Khrushchev had repeatedly warned that a Soviet treaty with East Germany would be signed before the year is out.

Ulbricht acknowledged that the Western Powers, which joined with the Soviet Union to defeat Nazi Germany, did have a "certain interest" in Berlin.

The East German leader referred to the treaty only as "a task that can no longer be postponed." Mikoyan demanded a conclusion "in the most immediate future."

Khrushchev, in a message from Moscow, formally stamped his approval on the Berlin barricades.

Rayburn said to Be Resting Well

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Cancer-stricken Sam Rayburn took nourishment Friday and a doctor said the House speaker was resting comfortably.

Dr. Ralph Tumpsett said Rayburn, 79, much thinner than his colleagues in Washington remembered him, had some soup and tea.

Tumpsett is chief of internal medicine at Baylor Hospital and a consultant in the Rayburn case.

Rayburn had not eaten since surgery was performed Thursday to remove a lymph gland from the groin area. Since then he has received blood transfusions and intravenous feedings.

A biopsy, doctors said, showed that the politically powerful and beloved Democrat has an incurable cancer.

3 South African Bank Bandits Got $231,000

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Three white bandits Friday robbed three bank employees in central Pretoria of funds estimated at $231,000. Police called it the biggest armed robbery in South Africa's history.

Officers said the robbers had halted a van in which employees of the Volkskas People's Bank were transporting money from a post office to the bank's head office.

The bandits, armed with pistols, tied up the employees and drove off in the van.

Small Progress Seen In Discussion on Berlin

President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko meet in the Oval Room of the White House. The Berlin crisis was the top subject for discussion. Dean Rusk, secretary of state, said the talks were interesting. He failed to comment further.

Crisis Still Grave After Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a two-hour conference between President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the United States and the Soviet Union were reported still far apart today on ways of negotiating a peaceful settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Informed officials here consider the East-West dispute over Berlin still extremely dangerous. At the same time hope persists that a solution short of a military showdown will be found to end the crisis.

Kennedy and the Soviet foreign minister discussed the situation in the Oval Room of the White House late Friday and wound up their talks shortly after 7 o'clock without issuing any kind of formal statement.

As he climbed into his limousine to return to the Soviet Embassy on nearby 16th Street, Gromyko told newsmen the conversation had been "useful." Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who sat in on the discussion, merely called it "interesting."

Allies Stand Firm

Kennedy was understood to have told Gromyko in calm but very emphatic terms that the United States and its Western Allies are fully determined to defend West Berlin against Communist pressures, to preserve their right to maintain troops in the city, and to keep open the supply lines from West Germany.

Gromyko told reporters that the conversation had touched "several important matters" bearing on U.S.-Soviet relations and added: "Of course, as far as the position of the Soviet government is concerned, we stressed first of all

2 Students Found Dead In Dormitory

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Authorities are depending on results of an autopsy to clear up the mystery deaths of two University of North Carolina students in the dormitory room they shared.

"We can't give any diagnosis until the autopsy is complete," acting Coroner George Cannady said Friday night.

Cannady said it probably would be two or three days before the autopsy report is ready on the bodies of William Henry Harrison Johnson Jr., 24, and James Michael Barham, 21.

The bodies, in their beds and dressed in night clothes, were found Friday by a janitor who went to their room to investigate when they failed to appear for their jobs at the university dining hall.

Johnson, from Statesville, was a graduate student in industrial relations. Barham, a junior, was working money from a from Burlington.

The post mortem was ordered after a coroner's jury ruled that the young men had died "by unknown causes."

Quick Switch to Nuclear Weapons

U. S. Tactical Air Force
Could Move Immediately

RAMSTEIN AIR FORCE BASE, material has begun. About 95 per cent of the crews of the 17th States Tactical Air Force in Europe are qualified for the use of nuclear weapons, Spicer said.

The fighter-bombers and light bombers based at 17th Air Force fields along the Communist frontier and farther back can load up bomber crews of the 17th Air Force with either standard explosive or atomic bombs, with no change required in equipment.

Newsman, in a tour of Ramstein, got the impression that both types of weapons were in storage within minutes of ready areas where planes stood poised for almost instant take-off. The aircraft apparently were armed with one type of weapon.

The strike planes of the 17th Air Force were in use and other NATO ground forces in the event of a Soviet satellite.

Government policy is to provide U.S. commanders in Europe, both air and ground, with alternative weapons. The United States has carefully avoided foreclosing the possibility of applying atomic weapons when and where a situation might demand.

Maj. Gen. H. R. Spicer, meeting with U.S. newsmen Friday, was asked if the trend has been to downgrade atomic weapons while beefing up the conventional explosive category.

Increase Practice
This Spicer denied with a sharp "We have not." Then he said that more practice with standard bombs, aerial rockets and similar

British Plane Wreck Found

Sighted in French
Mountains; 34
Persons Aboard

TOULOUSE, France (AP)—Wreckage of a plane—apparently a British airliner missing with 34 persons aboard—was found today in mountains near Prades, about 30 miles from Perpignan, police at Prades announced.

The wreckage was spotted by residents in the area of the Canigou Peak of the Pyrenees at an altitude of some 6,000 feet.

Weather in the area was reported bad. Mt. Canigou, which is mined for iron ore, rises to 9,137 feet.

The British plane, a Dakota, dropped from sight on a flight from Gatwick Airport near London to Perpignan, a regional commercial center of 65,000 in southern France about 10 miles from the Mediterranean and 20 from the Spanish frontier.

A spokesman for Derby Aviation, owners of the missing plane, said there were 31 passengers and 3 crew members aboard.

It was believed all aboard were British.

The passengers were flying to France to begin a bus tour of the Costa Brava in Spain after landing.

Construction workers in the Ariège Department (county) of the Pyrenees said they heard a plane flying over early this morning and that its engines did not sound as though they were functioning normally.

Hoffa Approves Work Contracts

NEW YORK (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa says he has signed work contracts for 600,000 members of his trucking union which will expire simultaneously in September, 1964.

Hoffa, speaking Friday before delegates to the annual convention of the Transport Workers Union, said the New York pact—the last of which were signed Friday morning—call for uniform minimum wages and increased pension benefits. He did not specify the minimum wage.

Earlier Hoffa had said that his 1,700,000-member union would be willing under "certain stipulated terms" to return to the AFL-CIO from which it was expelled in 1957.

It would cost the Teamsters $4 million a year to return to the AFL-CIO, Hoffa said, adding he would be willing to make the move "only for the sake of unity."

The TWU is the first major AFL-CIO affiliate Hoffa has addressed since his Teamsters were expelled on grounds of corruption.

Nuclear Powers Asked To Avoid Ocean Tests

GENEVA (AP)—The International Labor Organization appealed to the nuclear powers Friday to keep the oceans free of atomic test explosions.

The appeal was made by the ILO's Joint Maritime Committee combining 15 shipowners and 15 representatives of seafarers organizations affiliated with the world labor body.

The committee cited what it called the grave health hazards created by nuclear tests and said in a resolution that every effort must be made to minimize the danger.

Clark, Ex-Envoy and Mormon Leader, Dies

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—J. Reuben Clark Jr., 90, one-time U.S. ambassador to Mexico and a Mormon church leader for 28 years, died at his home Friday.

At the time of his death, Clark was first counselor to President David O. McKay of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. This post made him the second-ranking spiritual leader of the world's 17 million Mormons.

Funeral services will be held at noon Tuesday in the historic Salt Lake Tabernacle.

Former President Herbert Hoover said Clark was "one of America's noble men—strong in his religious faith, his devotion to the principles of freedom, and his service to his fellow men."

"He was a steadfast friend for 35 years," Hoover said. "I grieve with all his friends at his passing."

Clark was U.S. ambassador to Mexico under Hoover, from 1930 to 1933, when he resigned to accept a high post in the church. He devoted the rest of his life to the church.

Long, Hard Winter

Squirrels Will Wear Mink, Almanac Says

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Squirrels will wear mink coats, rah-rah, will wrap up in beaver stoles, and human beings had best simply find a cozy corner and park themselves for the winter's duration.

On that lugubrious chord John Baer's 1962 agricultural almanac makes its bow today.

Spade Is Snowshovel
In all the 137 years history of this famed Pennsylvania Dutch woodshed, few weather forecasts have been more numbing.

Shivering at their own sagacity, the publishers say "We can no longer call a spade an up-to-the-minute. We've got to call it a snowshovel, and, brother, will it ever get a low-chung car—rig up tall flag."

If Americans, particularly in the East and Midwest, thought last winter was tough, they'd better beware of what's coming, says the almanac, for "old-fashioned what it calls a space-age love song, 'Farmer in Orbit' where the lover tells his lass that trouble with all this, however, when they zing into the beyond, is that you have to separate the 'We'll farm the sky and feed our grim from the gay. Baer's, like bay to cattle on the Milky Way."

Paar Offside, Off Base In Battle With 'Press'

Jingo Points Out Reactions of Berlin Episode Happened as Papers Reported

BY JINGO
Jack Paar is at it again! In this season of World Series and football the kindest thing that can be said about this episode in his continuing battle with "The Press" is that he's away off base or in line for an off-side penalty.

This observation shouldn't be considered a yelp of hurt pride or a scream from being prodded in a sore spot. Paar is not concerned with "The Press," he has a vendetta with one segment of "The Press." He's off base and offside when he doesn't make that clear.

In this democracy everyone has the right and privilege to say most anything that comes into his mind — with the exception of crying "Fire" where there is no fire or of using hyperbole and misrepresentation to do harm.

Paar's main premise, it seems, is that "The Press" is doing both things against him. Yet, he's much more guilty. If his charges are true, it hardly seems that anyone is being hurt. Surely not Paar, who claims network officers of the highest level are paying court to him to remove his threat of retiring.

However, with his failure to clarify what he means in the term "The Press," he's in a position to do tremendous harm to one of the basic foundations of our way of life.

A cry of "Fire" in a crowded assemblage is a reprehensible thing to do and there will be no voice raised to defend such an idiotic act. But, as reprehensible as it is, the act could harm only a relatively handful of people.

However, if an irresponsible voice, magnified beyond any reason, besmirches the means by which a democracy obtains its information and, through his fearfully righteous image, convinces a large segment of that democracy of his mouthings, he's taken a big, if not irretrievable, step toward damaging the form of government which gave him the opportunity to do the damage. The "Fire" cry is a heinous form of disorderly conduct. The latter act is mighty close to something akin to treason.

Let's look at the case at hand. With characteristic bravado, Paar made commercial stock out of the situation in Berlin; complaining while he was doing it nothing happened. What would have happened, if Paar had been in the middle of the recent shootings? His view of the homemade, warmongering "tension" surely would have been different.

His actions, labelled provocation by the Communist press and reported as such in the world press, raised a furor in the Pentagon which, also, was reported in the world press. Paar has a perfect right to object to the reaction, but he's off base when he casts aspersions on the truth of the reports — the actions and reactions are on record. They happened.

Paar's personal vendetta is with a segment of "The Press" that another good story on The De would be hard to defend on its record. Its credentials as a spokesman for Paar's Island, a city prison in general from either premise New York's East River. There's would be unworthy and, in Paar's been a prison riot, and the prison-

Communists Observe 12th Anniversary of East German Rule

Mikoyan Leads Soviet Delegation; Workers Busy Sealing off Berlin

BY DAVID M. NICHOL
Chicago Daily News Service

BERLIN — Anastas Mikoyan, the Kremlin's most durable fixture, led a Soviet delegation into East Berlin Friday to celebrate the twelfth anniversary of Communist rule there.

The festivities, to which most of the Soviet bloc nations have sent representatives, will cover two days and include a Communist-style mass rally today.

The birthday occurs at a critical juncture in the life of the German Democratic Republic, as the East German regime describes itself.

The Communist authorities are bursting with confidence in the wake of their August coup in Berlin and are more hopeful than they ever have been that they will gain some measure of official recognition from the nations of the West.

At the same time the Communists are proceeding more ruthlessly against their 17 million subjects than at any previous interval in Germany. Now that the borders have been sealed and flight has become almost impossible, no one is being spared.

Bruno Luschner, a member of the East German politburo, made this plain in a speech Thursday in the newly created Technical University in Dresden, the former Technical High School.

The time is past, Leuschner said, when the intellectuals and the technicians of East Germany can be neutral or uninterested about the Communist regime. They must re-examine their position, he said, and decide on all-out cooperation. Halfway conversions, he said, would not be sufficient.

Leaders of the Evangelical Church in West Berlin say that as a result of these pressures the mental depression and spiritual agony of many East Germans is worse now than it was in the terrible days of the collapse at the end of World War II.

Meantime the system the Communists are running is creaking audibly under some of the strains to which it has been exposed since Aug. 13.

The cost of building and maintaining the ghetto-like wall and the elaborate border defenses has been immense and the loss of labor in factories and on farms is making itself felt.

In some districts in East Germany this weekend's birthday festivities will get short changed because the citizens have been ordered to do their "patriotic duty" by going into the fields to help with the lagging potato harvest.

Extending Trench
In spite of this, work on the defenses around Berlin continues. In a five-mile walk along portions of the border between West and East Berlin we saw scores of soldiers and workmen cutting trees, tearing down buildings and digging the communications trench which now runs like a great ugly scar almost entirely around West Berlin.

Little Clarification
It appears that the conference at the White House covered much of the same ground that had been covered by Gromyko and Rusk in a series of three meetings in New York in the previous two weeks.

It was understood, moreover, that Gromyko still had not told U.S. leaders what Soviet Premier Khrushchev means exactly when he talks of guaranteeing Western access to West Berlin after he signs a peace treaty with Communist East Germany. Khrushchev has said that the peace treaty will establish East German sovereignty over the supply lines from West Germany and that thereafter the Western powers must negotiate with the East German regime for use of the supply line.

The White House discussion ended the first phase of U.S.-Soviet efforts to lay a basis for future, formal negotiations on a Berlin settlement. So far as this phase is concerned, it obviously ended in failure to arrive at an agreement. However, officials said, it was too early to speak of failure in any broad sense since more "exploratory talks" are expected.

Envoys to Confer
The next phase may be handled by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson in Moscow and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov in Washington.

Thompson reached Washington late Friday and plans to spend several days in consultation here with Rusk and other administration officials. He expects to return to Moscow in about a week since he wants to be back for the opening of a Soviet Communist party meeting Oct. 17.

U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling, envoy to West Germany at Bonn, also is due here this weekend for consultation. Thompson and Dowling will get full reports on the Rusk and Kennedy openings of the second half of the film, which relates the struggles of Zionists Jews to make Israel developments in allied policies on their homeland.

Instead they mounted the stage and broke out with a hot rumormongering called "24,000 Kisses." The Ford's steel division—the blast furnace and coke ovens, the open hearth and the rolling mill.

Among other vital locations still unsettled are the Cleveland, Ohio, foundry and engine plants and the Canton, Ohio, forge plant. A Zionist Organization, sponsors of strike at Canton once forced a virtually complete shutdown of all Ford assembly.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day, right, presents first issues of the four-cent Frederic Remington commemorative stamp to Dr. Harold McCracken at a ceremony at the National Gallery of Art in Washington. In the background is the Remington painting, "The Smoke Signal," used to decorate the new stamp. Dr. McCracken is director of the Whitney Gallery of Western Art at Cody, Wyo. Sevareid's Column to Appear in Post-Crescent

"I may occasionally annoy some readers, but I rarely bore anybody," claims Eric Sevareid. And few will deny either ability to the sophisticated, amusing and mildly cynical news analyst who has been newspaper reporter, author, radio, TV commentator and now is syndicated columnist for the Post-Crescent.

His column on international, national, economic and military affairs—which he has been covering distinguishedly for about two dozen years—will appear Sundays on one of the editorial pages. Sevareid began as a copyboy on the Minneapolis Journal in 1931 before getting his A.B. degree at the University of Minnesota. Later he served as a reporter on the Journal, then on the Minneapolis Star.

Went to Paris
In 1938 he expanded his horizons, joining the Paris Edition of the N.Y. Herald Tribune, first as a reporter, then as city editor.

18th Nuclear Test By Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired its 18th nuclear explosion in the atmosphere since the Russians' current test series began Sept. 1.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said the test device was detonated early Friday in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya.

The AEC's statement on the explosion, coming hours after Paris and Tokyo had reported it, said the blast had a yield of several megatons. A megaton is equivalent to the energy released by a million tons of TNT.

The U.S. agency has attributed yields of several megatons to at least four previous Soviet tests, including one three days ago.

French government detection services, first to report the explosion, called it the biggest yet. Japanese experts estimated its strength at 10 megatons.

Dearborn Local 600 Key to Settlement, Of Strike at Ford

DETROIT Mich. (AP)—Local 600 of the United Auto Workers Union—often called the biggest union local in the country—appeared today to hold the key to settlement of the UAW's strike against Ford Motor Co.

The strike began Tuesday and has killed 120,000 production workers at 88 plants in 26 states.

Local 600 represents more than 30,000 of the strikers at the Rouge industrial complex in Dearborn, Mich.

"Without the Rouge, nobody works," said one union man. "We have to wrap it up there."

The union reported what it called substantial progress within Local 600 Friday when it reached agreements with three units at the Ford's steel division—the blast furnace and coke ovens, the open hearth and the rolling mill.

Among other vital locations still unsettled are the Cleveland, Ohio, foundry and engine plants and the Canton, Ohio, forge plant. A Zionist Organization, sponsors of strike at Canton once forced a virtually complete shutdown of all Ford assembly.

Eric Sevareid

After a short trick as night editor of United Press in Paris, he joined the Columbia Broadcasting System in August of 1939, as a European correspondent.

His voice became familiar to listeners throughout the U.S. during the war. He was with the French Army and Air Force in France and Belgium, then broadcast news of the French capitulation from Tours and Bordeaux. His voice has since been heard from many parts of the world, including England (where he is currently), Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Mexico, Brazil. So effective were his news analyses that many were collected and published as a book, "In One Ear."

No Expert, He

Eric Sevareid claims no "expertise except perhaps in the political and diplomatic areas," but he has gone from the small town of Velva, North Dakota, his birthplace, to the great capitals and news centers of the world, from a dirt farm to acquaintance with the world's great, from covering baby snatching and Minneapolis meetings to commenting on world war and world conferences.

Married and the father of twin teen-agers, Sevareid has a fairly recent "passion for hunting and fishing—with too little time to indulge it." He is past president of the Radio Correspondents Association.

In addition to "In One Ear," he wrote the juvenile "Canoeing with the Cree," the bestselling "Not So Wild a Dream" and, more recently, "Small Sounds in the Night."

Favors Jail Sentences for Quack Medics

Health Official Proposes Stiffer Curbs on Fakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—"There is nothing so educational as a stretch in jail" to stop medical quacks, a health official said Saturday.

The official, Milton P. Duffy, chief of the California Bureau of Ford and Drug inspections, proposed stiffer penalties for medical fakers in an address for the National Congress on Medical Quackery.

The American Medical Association and the Food and Drug Administration are sponsoring the two-day meeting, ending today, in a drive aimed at putting medical confidence men out of business. Some 500 medical men are attending.

Asks Stiff Penalties

Duffy proposed jail sentences "or a stiff fine which takes the profit out of profiteers" to combat medical quacks.

Duffy said in California, elderly persons suffer most at the hands of medical fakers.

"It is this class that most frequently becomes the target for extensive exploitation and which is subjected to enormous financial strain," he said.

He said California authorities have acted against quacks producing a cancer salve which caused chemical burns while supposedly curing the disease and a "musical cancer treatment" in which wires from a tape recorder were attached to electrodes placed on the body of the patient. Duffy said the device was supposed to disintegrate tumors by carrying music to the site of the cancer.

Dr. Harold E. Jeevey Jr., former president of the Federation of State Medical Boards, complained about light penalties imposed on quacks.

Dr. Frederick J. Stare of Boston said food faddists and nutrition crackpots are running a $500-million a year business, "one of the smoothest and best organized rackets in the country."

2 Persons Die on Wisconsin Roads

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Wisconsin highway traffic toll for 1961 has reached 666 with the death of two persons, one of them the father of five. The total on this date a year ago was 635.

Donald Beckley, 41-year-old father of five children, was killed Friday night when his motorcycle and an automobile collided on Highway 27 near Ladysmith in Rusk County. Beckley was a resident of Conrath in Rusk County.

Mrs. Curtis Homer, 63, of Galesville, was killed earlier Friday when the automobile she was driving went out of control on a hill and smashed into a building at its Fountain City in Buffalo County. The accident happened on Highway 55.

Common-Law Wife Seeks His Fortune

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Hotelman Khadouri Chaachou made plans today to give his last $3 million to charity to keep it from his common-law wife and "unscrupulous people."

Since 1952 Chaachou has been fighting a divorce action brought by Mrs. Fredericka Phillips Chaachou, whom he claims he never married but to whom the court ordered him to pay $161,250 in F105 Thunderchiefs. The latter cash and $750 a month.

Chaachou said the woman "told me she had a vision that I was drowning and the Lord told her to go catch Chaachou." Another vision told her to end their relationship 10 years later, he said.

At court hearings, Chaachou testified that Mrs. Phillips had come to him "in the capacity of everything—housekeeper, hostess, manager, entertainer."

She testified that they had lived as husband and wife and that he had invited her to leave.

Some 23 lawyers represented Chaachou during the long and complex hearings which featured everything from hypnotism to testimony by a faith healer.

"It's not the alimony," Chaachou told reporters Friday. "Ever since all the publicity, folks think I'm rich and ready to be taken. They're like hungry dogs. Every one who submits a bill to me doubles it."

Chaachou said he has not decided what charities will get his fortune but he may begin the transfer "any day now."

Wife Granted Divorce Because Mail Carrier Walks in His Sleep

CHICAGO (AP)—The wife of a Chicago letter carrier was granted a divorce Friday because, after her husband finished his appointed rounds, he just kept on walking—in his sleep, night after night.

After her husband 36, was bedded down for the night, Mrs. Donald Weber said, he would get up and start sleep walking.

Sometimes her somnambulist husband lighted cigarettes, Ms. Weber told Superior Court Judge Walker Butler. And when she tired to awaken him, she said, his first reaction was to strike her.

"If it would save the marriage," said Judge Butler, "I wish I could issue an injunction restraining him from sleep walking."

Mrs. Weber's attorney told the court several physicians had told him no drug exists to halt Weber's nighttime strolls.

He was admitted to Montgomery Hospital for treatment of gashes and abrasions of the hand.

The 17th has 25 squadrons of tactical bombing types, averaging between 18 and 25 planes per squadron, and six squadrons of darkness by radar and launch missiles guided to the target by heat-seeking devices or radar control. The F104, a slightly lighter but faster jet, can work up to altitudes of 90,000 feet.

Contingency Plans

Asked how the fighters could protect commercial airliners in the event of Red attack in the corridor, Spicer said: "We have contingency plans for just about everything. We have F102s and F104s sitting ready to take off. They could help."

How does the Tactical Air Force in Western Europe compare with the Communist force facing it?

Spicer agreed that "we are quite drastically outnumbered, but not qualitatively." The 17th has the latest aircraft in its inventory.

"I'll put up our best against their best anytime," the general declared.

Revising the Forest Law

Gov. Nelson acted with the prudence that the subject demanded when he wrote his veto of the legislative bill purporting to revise the state forest crop contract law to make it more fair to the county government partners of the state.

The governor's message indicated that he is fully aware of the financial importance of the forest harvest in the economy of northern Wisconsin counties, on the one hand, and of the huge investment of the taxpayers of the state as a whole in creating these potentially productive forest plantations, on the other. The people of Appleton, Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien have financed these forests during the last three decades, out of a realization that the rehabilitation of the forest districts of Wisconsin is a boon to the state community as a whole.

Mr. Nelson says that he is prepared to name a committee to review the administration of the forest crop law, and the respective rights and interests of the counties and the state, so that the legislature of 1963 can make the revisions that sober reflection indicates are needed. Such caution is required. We are satisfied that the legislature as a whole lacked a clear understanding of the issues when it approved the vetoed bill, under the prodding of some popular and influential representatives of the forest counties.

Surely a compact that was carefully devised in the first instance, and that has stood without serious challenge for more than 30 years, should not be broken impulsively.

There are more than 2,000,000 acres of marginal soils and non-agricultural soils in the state now devoted to producing trees through this county forest program. They represent a considerable harvest return today, but an immensely greater crop for the decades ahead. They are in the literal sense of the word "public" properties. Their private owners abandoned them with the removal of their original timber stands. Most of these lands were returned to county ownership through tax delinquency. They have been protected, planted, improved, and otherwise promoted through the state tax base.

Like the governor, we have a real sympathy for the fiscal problems of the far northern districts. But Mr. Nelson was right when he cautioned that a more generous arrangement for the counties must be provided with safeguards to assure the integrity of a program which is the most vital part of the publicly financed reforestation effort of this state.

When Big City Police Fail

Photographs appearing in the press recently showed a group of Denver city policemen being led off to jail by Gilbert R. Carrel, chief of the Colorado state patrol. The lines under the cut said that the Denver policemen had been arrested on burglary charges and suspended from the force.

During the past year and a half the Chicago police department has been rocked by reports that a large number of members of the force had been accused of burglarizing stores and warehouses in Chicago. The public long has been conditioned to the fact that almost anything can happen in Chicago. Thus another scandal in the police department, even when it involved the members in the department in burglaries, came to be accepted as something that could happen in Chicago although perhaps not easily anywhere else.

Now, however, the story from Denver has caused many people to wonder what is going on in this country. The investigation of the Denver police department was begun five weeks ago. Thirteen policemen were arrested early in the investigation and six already have been convicted. Later an additional 23 policemen and former policemen were arrested and the indications are that many more are in prospect. It is believed the loot in burglaries executed by policemen during the last two years may total several hundred thousand dollars.

The investigation of the Denver police has been taken over by the state of Colorado. Recently Gov. Steve McNichols reported that "the investigation thus far absolutely certifies with corroboration that shocking and extensive criminal activities have, for a considerable length of time, been successfully carried on within Denver city and county limits.

Atty. Gen. Duke Dunbar reports that "the governor's statement was just a preliminary disclosure. Every day we are finding out more."

As an example of what has been going on in Denver, the investigators recently provided a sample of the police criminal operations. They reported that in June, 1960, one of the Denver Safeway stores was burglarized and yielded $40,000 in cash and $25,000 in checks. Two lookouts were used for this burglary, one a policeman in a squad car stationed across the street and the other a policeman in civilian dress down the street. Two expert safe crackers entered the building by ripping aluminum molding from the front door. Two of the burglars were policemen and one was a civilian brother of a policeman. The burglary took 90 minutes. The safe was opened with a power-operated carborundum wheel which they cooled with milk taken from the store's cooler. The checks were dumped in the South Platte River and then the gang met at the home of one of the policemen to split up the cash.

The story is similar to that of the Chicago police scandal which extended over the past two years.

Chicago's new police superintendent, Orlando W. Wilson, who has accomplished a great deal in the reorganization of the Chicago police department, in a report to the International Association of Chiefs of Police, may have given some idea of why policemen go wrong and how order can be restored to a department.

He said, "A community which is well informed on the problem and which is unwilling to tolerate crime will succeed in its efforts to reduce it.

"Community intolerance of crime can best be reflected in the form of support, material and spiritual, for its law enforcement agencies. The agency in turn must earn the support. We in Chicago are fortunate in having the strong support of our citizens."

Later on in his talk he pointed out that the backbone of any police agency is the quality of its men. He said the Chicago department has many highly competent, hard working, dedicated men who now are being given opportunities to advance and to improve themselves through training.

He then added, "We must continue to raise the level of salaries if we are to hire and retain competent men in the police service." He believes that the Chicago department should be permitted to recruit men from the entire United States.

He declares that the top command of the Chicago police department should rank among and associate with top ranking business executives and public administrators of the community. That may be a rather general statement but it has within it a sound basis for the operation of any police department. In short, policemen should be well paid and they should have the respect of the people in the community.

BY STEPHEN W. BEARS

The Army of the Potomac was a badly blunted fighting instrument in January, 1863.

Bumbling Ambrose Burnside had maimed it in the fiery hell of Fredericksburg in December; its winter camps were little better than pigsties; the commissary was incompetent and corrupt; soldiers died untended

After the personalities of two generals, and the outcome of the battle of Chancellorsville would have been totally different. The victory would have belonged to the Union, if "Fighting Joe" Hooker hadn't had a sudden attack of cold feet. With an army half the size of Hooker's, Lee took matters into his own hands and went on to victory, a victory saddened by the mortal wounding of Stonewall Jackson. An editor of American Heritage's book division has written this absorbing account of the crucial battle.

in foul hospital tents; and desertions at the rate of 200 a day sapped its strength.

Then on Jan. 26, Maj. Gen. Joseph Hooker succeeded to command, and things began to happen. The men in the ranks suddenly found wholesome food issued, camps policed, and rigorous drills lifting their days.

Lincoln reluctantly appointed "Fighting Joe" Hooker to army command. A capable soldier, egotism marred his good qualities.

Morale soared, for Hooker had given the men back what Burnside had nearly killed — their pride in themselves as soldiers.

"Fighting Joe" Hooker was a handsome, hard-drinking, hard-fighting West Pointer, popular with his troops. He was also, at heart, an intriguer and an egotist, and Abraham Lincoln was uneasy about him. "Beware of rashness," he warned his new general, but Hooker bubbled with self-confidence. He predicted that Robert E. Lee and his Army of Northern Virginia would soon be huddled in the Richmond defenses, and ordered siege equipment to be readied. "May God have mercy on General Lee," he confided, "for I will have none."

Lee's army lay around Fredericksburg secure in cunning entrenchments overlooking the Rappahannock River. As the spring breezes of late April dried the roads, Hooker put his army in motion; he would not assault these frowning, deadly lines, but outflank them instead. He had the manpower to do it — 130,000 men to Lee's 60,000.

Hooker's Army Rolls

Hooker's scheme required a long hike westward, crossings of the Rappahannock and its tributary, the Rapidan, then a return march eastward through a jungle-like, gloomy woodland known locally as the Wilderness. His immediate goal was Chancellorsville, a drowsy crossroads hamlet whose name war would stain immutably.

These moves should put 70,000 Federals just a dozen miles from, and well behind, the Fredericksburg defenses. To screen his intentions, Hooker scheduled various diversions, including a feint by a federal force left behind opposite Fredericksburg.

The first phase of Hooker's plan proceeded like clockwork. The flank march was made swiftly and efficiently, and by nightfall on April 30 he was at Chancellorsville. The advance had uncovered additional river crossings, opening the way for reinforcements. Hooker issued a general order, reading in part, "our enemy must either ingloriously fly or come out from behind his defenses... where certain destruction awaits him."

That night the Yankees bedded down nervously in the shadowy, tangled undergrowth around Chancellorsville. The Wilderness looked to them like a bad place for a fight. The Rebels were up to something, but Federal cavalry patrols seeking information found themselves overwhelmed by Jeb Stuart's troopers.

Lee learns of moves

Thanks to Stuart's superbly handled cavalry, Lee had not been long in learning Hooker's moves. Leaving Jubal Early and only 10,000 troops at Fredericksburg, he marched hard for Chancellorsville. When it was suggested to Stonewall Jackson that the undermanned Rebel army might best fight on the defensive, Jackson snapped, "No, sir, we shall not fall back, we shall attack them."

On May 1 the Federals set out in force for open ground a scant few miles ahead. But soon Confederate infantry appeared to contest the advance. Stuart still enforced an intelligence blackout on the Yankee patrols, and Joe Hooker began to lose his grip on things. Lee had struck him unexpectedly, and Hooker's aggressive resolves evaporated. With hardly a fight he fell back to a defensive position at Chancellorsville, surrendering the initiative to Robert E. Lee.

At Dawn on May 2, 1863, Lee and Jackson met for the last time. That evening Jackson was mortally wounded. The death of his brilliant lieutenant moved Lee to remark, "I have lost my right arm." For the Confederacy, Chancellorsville was a barren victory.

works the evening of May 1, he and Stonewall Jackson pondered the situation facing them. Then Stuart reported that his troopers had found the Federal right flank invitingly unprotected. With but 50,000 troops at hand, Lee gave half of them to Jackson for a long flanking march directly across the enemy front to strike at the Federal right. Such a decision shattered all manner of hoary military axioms, but it had the supreme virtue of being completely unexpected. With first light on May 2 Jackson and his men moved in.

As the day wore on Lee kept steady pressure on the Union left and center, as if probing for a weak spot. In early afternoon Gen. Dan Sickles, commanding the Union center, persuaded Hooker to let him advance; he had glimpsed Jackson's columns, and deduced that the Southerners were in full retreat.

False Victory Hope

The jubilant report came back that Sickles was among the Confederate trains, and Federal cavalry was alerted for the job of rounding up stragglers from the retreating enemy. In the end Sickles accomplished little, however, except to leave the force on his right completely isolated.

The force on his right was the XI Corps, and about that time Stonewall Jackson was gazing down from a wooded hillock at these unsuspecting Yankees. "His eyes burnt with a brilliant glow," recalled an aide. Quietly the Rebels formed for the attack.

The XI Corps was the ugly duckling of the Army of the Potomac. It was composed in large part of German troops, "Dutchmen" to the rest of the army, ostracized for their alien ways. The Dutchmen had a record of bad luck and defeat, and Hooker had put them here to keep them out of the way. Just now, as the afternoon shadows grew long, they lolled behind their skimpy defenses, preparing for the evening meal and listening to one of their fine regimental bands.

At six p.m. the Yankees were startled by panicky deer and rabbits breaking out of the thick woods athwart their flank. Almost immediately came the fearsome screech of the Rebel yell, and a mile-wide Confederate battle line burst from the undergrowth like an avalanche.

roads were jammed with a wild tangle of guns, men, wagons, and horses, with Jackson's artillery spraying canister into this mass. Officers galloped forward to rally their men, and the Federal high command hurriedly placed batteries to meet the threat. The XI Corps fled in rout, and Hooker's right wing was shattered.

As the victorious Confederates paused to catch their breath and regroup, Jackson rode out to reconnoiter the new Yankee positions. He wanted to slide his attack in behind Hooker's army, cutting it off from the Rappahannock crossings. About 9 p. m. a nervous North Carolina regiment loosed a volley at what looked like prowling Yankees. Instead it was Jackson's party, and Stonewall reeled in the saddle with three wounds.

Stonewall Falls

Bleeding heavily from his shattered left arm, Jackson was carried to the rear, and with him went the chance to drive home a telling blow at the staggered Federals. At a field hospital several hours later his arm was amputated.

The next day, May 3, found Hooker in a good position for a counterstroke, for fully two miles separated the halves of Lee's army. But Joe Hooker was a beaten man, thinking only of defense. He admitted later, "I just lost confidence in Joe Hooker." Stuart took over for Jackson, and began shifting to his right to rejoin Lee. Both men relentlessly drove home attacks on the Federal perimeter.

The clashing lines swayed back and forth, cannon firing at pointblank range, choking battlesmoke hanging low in the forest. Again and again the Rebels charged, and the Yankees gave ground stubbornly, a step at a time. At one point the 1st South Carolina and 2nd Massachusetts regiments slugged it out, fire-eating secessionists against bedrock abolitionists.

As the Union salient became increasingly constricted, Lee's artillery took it under a deadly converging fire. The Chancellorsville crossroads became a maelstrom of plunging shot and exploding shell. Hooker himself was stunned by a direct hit on his headquarters, and supply trains and reserves were scattered. The Rebel cannoners even fired pieces of railroad rail.

Federal's Retreat

The Federals finally fell back to strong lines covering the Rappahannock crossings. Gen. Charles Griffin worked his guns into position, exclaiming, "I'll make 'em think hell isn't half a mile off!" and beat back the final Rebel charge.

Meanwhile, Hooker had ordered John Sedgwick's 25,000 men at Fredericksburg to come to his aid. Sedgwick got his troops aligned for the attempt at the Fredericksburg fortifications. Twice Jubal Early's thin gray tanks repulsed the Yankees, but at the third charge his position was breached. Sedgwick was soon on the roads to Chancellorsville.

Lee spun around, leaving but 25,000 men to keep an eye on the subdued Hooker, and marched off to attend to this new threat. On May 4 at Salem Church, halfway between Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, he hounded Sedgwick back against the Rappahannock. Hooker never lifted a finger to help his hard-pressed subordinate. His only reaction was to order a general retreat across the river, admitting defeat and ending the campaign.

Robert E. Lee had composed a military masterpiece at Chancellorsville. He seized the initiative from an enemy of more than double his strength, with daring maneuvers and brilliant deployments soundly defeated that enemy, and inflicted over 17,300 casualties at a cost of 12,800 from his own ranks.

But the price of victory came high for the South. Stonewall Jackson had contracted pneumonia, and life began to slip away. On May 10, 1863, murmuring "Let us cross over the river, and rest under the shade of the trees," he died. When he first heard of his lieutenant's wounding, Lee had said, "I have lost my right arm." Now, at his death, he admitted, "I know not how to replace him." The Army of Northern Virginia was never quite the same again. (Copyright, 1961)

At Washington the thermometer at noon, for the several days past, has ranged between 85 and 90 in the shade.

The basement of the Capitol building has been converted into an immense bake house. In the building there are eight large ovens in full operation, employing 40 bakers, turning out from 30,000 to 34,000 loaves per day, each loaf weighing 22 ounces.

In the vaults, outside of the building, there are six double ovens which employ on bakers, who produce daily 30,000 to 40,000 loaves. One hundred and sixty persons are employed at these bakeries, each receiving from $35 to $42 a month. The monthly payroll amounts to over $6,000.

Cross Heresy?

Prominent Rabbinic Questions View Of Judaism as Nation, Not Religion

BY JULES LOH
NEW YORK (AP)—A prominent rabbi, anticipating that his views might be "criticized as cross heresy," believes Judaism is headed for extinction unless it veers sharply from what he considers its present course.

Rabbi Phillip Sigal of Beth Abraham Synagogue in Bridgeton, N.J., says the trend nowadays is to regard Jews as a nation or a people rather than simply a religious fellowship, and that this "tragic shift from religion to political science in Jewish life and thought is the first real step Jews have taken to commit suicide."

Rabbi Sigal is founder of the Bridgeton chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and a participant in the Continuing Conference on Conservative (Jewish) Ideology. He outlines his views in an article scheduled to appear next week in "Issues," a publication of the American Council for Judaism. Rabbi Sigal is not a member of the council.

Specific Issue
Rabbi Sigal takes particular issue with Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion who views true Zionism as nothing less than "aliyah"—emigration of all Jews to Israel.

"Even if America is not our Zion," says Rabbi Sigal. "It certainly is our Babylonia. The whole controversy ought to be put to rest." His reference is to an ancient rabbinic quarrel between the two Jewish centers.

But Rabbi Sigal is equally distressed over what he considers a rising spirit of nationalism among Jews, spurred by the success of the nation of Israel.

Perfectly Normal
"Now it is taken for granted in almost all circles," he says, "that nationalism is a perfectly normal and authentic expression of Judaism.

"The transformation of the nature and destiny of the Jew from a theological concept of a 'covenant people' into a political concept of a 'nation' has become a deep-rooted by now that one is looked upon annoyingly when he questions the idea."

Rabbi Sigal's own idea is that Jews share a bond of religion, nothing more.

In antiquity, he says, "Jews were an association with the common denominator being neither race, descent, citizenship, language or civilization, but exclusively religion."

Reason for Being
"To raise Zionism to the level of our modern raison d'être as so many seek to do," says the rabbi, "is to further confound our tragedy." Nationalism, he says, "can only lead to denuding Jewish life and perverting Jewish history. Its end result must be a catastrophe."

His answer:
"We must recapture the one permeating strand of our history which is the source of our being and the object of our destiny: religion."

PROMINENT MEN OF FAITH

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry

"The Lord, Church, his family and the N. Y. Yankees," are, in that order, the great loves of Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, leader of more than 50 million of the world's Lutherans.

The son of a minister, who always knew he would be a minister, nevertheless, inwardly struggled during his seminary days to face and think through for himself questions of faith.

His resulant spiritual strengthening speaks for itself: Aside from his Lutheran positions and activities, his interest in overseas relief, he is Chairman of the Policy and Strategy Committee of the National Council of Churches and Chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches.

Your Problems

Too-Possessive Mothers May Need Expert Medical Help

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a normal boy of 17 who would like to take out a girl. I'm not sweet on any special chick but there are several cute ones at school I'd like to ask for a date. The problem is my mother.

She says a boy 17 (I'll be 18 in December) should not be thinking about girls, and if she catches me talking to a girl on the phone or sitting in a girl's house after school, she'll knock my block off.

Mom checks on me whenever I say I'm going over to a guy's house. She calls up there to ask me some dumb question. When I tell her I'm going to the library after school I find her sitting there "accidentally." The guys all know about this and the ribbing is murder.

Can you give me some help with my problem?—Tailed Dear Tailed: It's your mother who has the real problem. A boy almost 18 who wants to date should be allowed to do so. Mothers who are too possessive live sometimes need professional help. Show her this column and if she has any questions she'd like to ask me I'd be happy to oblige.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why would a man profess his undying devotion to a woman, promise her marriage "when he is financially able" and at the same time buy her terribly expensive gifts, see her only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, never introduce her to his business associates or friends, and ask her not to phone him at home because his mother is very nervous and the telephone bothers her?

I worship this man and because of him I have cut myself off from all other male contacts for the last three years. These questions plague me. Can you provide answers?—Blind Love
Dear Blind: I can't provide answers, but I can hazard a guess or two.

This man is very much married and his "mother" who can't stand to hear the telephone ring is really his wife. Or—he is a mama's boy and is actually afraid to let his mother know he's interested in a woman.

In either case, the relationship doesn't stand the chance of a snowflake in New Orleans. Knock it off.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I run a high-class rooming house for working girls. I don't rent to just anybody.

A certain young woman who is 24 moved in about six months ago. She came from a small town and looked like Elsie Dinsmore—no make-up, hair the color God gave her and she carried her belongings in a suitcase with leather straps around it.

She got herself an office job the second day in town and two months later she went blonde, learned to paint up and took on a second job modeling. I see her of leave with a hatbox around dinner mummies as many as 32 per cent time and often she doesn't come home until it's light outside.

It's unhealthy for a young girl cent to work so many hours. I think out showing any obvious symptoms should give up one job or the other. I'm also carried by rats, other. Should I write to her mother and tell her what kind of hours her daughter is keeping? I this disease.

There are two schools of thought about what to do with hostile feelings. Some say, "Express it, get it out of your system!" Others just as convincing remind us that expressed hostility is warfare to be repressed at all costs. Is there no alternative? Yes, express your aggressions in non-hurtful ways. Clean that closet, dig in the garden, play a round of golf until you feel the hatred draining away.

Remember, there are dangers to be avoided in either irresponsible expression or repression of negative feelings. Some of these dangers are outlined in the booklet, "Tensions — and How to Master Them." Get your copy by sending 25 cents and your name and address to this column, care of this newspaper.

Can retarded children be taught anything?
Yes. One school in St. Louis County reports that 150 children with IQs from 25 to 40 have begun learning simple tasks under the guidance of patient teachers. Su-

I've seen children eight years old who couldn't tie their shoes. Here they learn in two weeks. Children who have been unable to talk because of brain damage had mastered the knack of speech. Education, geared to the level of the individual child whatever his or her particular IQ, is essential today.

Women's physical education is a waste of time.
True—False. A great deal of modern physical education involves learning the skills for recreational activities that carry over into adult life. If a girl in high school or college learns to swim, bowl, skate, dance, ski, arch, canoe, sail and to participate in any of the other sports and physical activities that are popular in her area, she is far more likely to be at home with others as an active participant as she goes out into the world. Such things are more important now than they used to be.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

SHOULD YOU EXPRESS OR REPRESS ANGER?
YOUR OPINION

There are two schools of thought about what to do with hostile feelings. Some say, "Express it, get it out of your system!" Others just as convincing remind us that expressed hostility is warfare to be repressed at all costs. Is there no alternative? Yes, express your aggressions in non-hurtful ways. Clean that closet, dig in the garden, play a round of golf until you feel the hatred draining away.

Remember, there are dangers to be avoided in either irresponsible expression or repression of negative feelings. Some of these dangers are outlined in the booklet, "Tensions — and How to Master Them." Get your copy by sending 25 cents and your name and address to this column, care of this newspaper.

Can retarded children be taught anything?
Yes. One school in St. Louis County reports that 150 children with IQs from 25 to 40 have begun learning simple tasks under the guidance of patient teachers. Su-

I've seen children eight years old who couldn't tie their shoes. Here they learn in two weeks. Children who have been unable to talk because of brain damage had mastered the knack of speech. Education, geared to the level of the individual child whatever his or her particular IQ, is essential today.

Women's physical education is a waste of time.
True—False. A great deal of modern physical education involves learning the skills for recreational activities that carry over into adult life. If a girl in high school or college learns to swim, bowl, skate, dance, ski, arch, canoe, sail and to participate in any of the other sports and physical activities that are popular in her area, she is far more likely to be at home with others as an active participant as she goes out into the world. Such things are more important now than they used to be.

Xavier Posts 34-0 Win Over St. John

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Xavier High School's football juggernaut blitzed Little Chute St. John, 34-0, Friday night with a combination of speed, power and razzle-dazzle at Goodland Field.

In dealing the Chuters only their second Fox Valley Catholic Conference loss in five years, Appleton's "Big X" ran its shut-out streak to four games, its 1961 winning chain to five games and its 2-season victory skein to nine straight.

The crowd of nearly 3,000 that turned out for Xavier's first major test of its first conference season watched the Hawks score on plays ranging from 1 foot to 24 yards in length and from sound to sensational in execution. The win gives the Hawks a temporary half-game edge on Premontre in the battle for the FVCC league. Premontre was to play Fond du Lac Springs this afternoon.

Bleier Scores First
Rocky Bleier's 1-foot dive capped a 7-play, 49-yard march Xavier staged the first time it owned the ball. Dick Wiesner's 2-yard sneak and Wiesner's 11-yard pass to Dick Rankin added a pair of touchdowns in the second period.

Pete Werner's scoring bursts of 12 yards and 15 yards (after a lateral from Wiesner) in the third quarter maintained the Hawk's record of producing at least five touchdowns in each game this season. Reserves played much of the last 15 minutes of the game for Xavier.

The closest that previously-unbeaten St. John came to ending Xavier's scoreless streak was the Hawk 18-yard line in the second quarter. That major threat was spiked by Bleier's interception — the first of four pick-offs by the alert hosts' defense.

Interceptions by Bleier and Chuck Lueck and a fumble recovery by Mike Flanagan set the stage for three of the five TDs. The Chuters' deepest penetration in the second half was the Xavier 34 — and that was halted by a "Kip" Whittling interception.

Though St. John's offense, directed by Jim Geerts, matched Xavier in first downs (10 apiece), it was unable to sustain a drive.

St. John's Joe Verkuilen (45) is hurried into a pass that was to be intercepted during Friday night's Chuter-Xavier game at Goodland Field. The Hawks' John Francek (22) puts the rush on the passer. Xavier won, 34-0.

Tom Roovers Passes, Runs to Lead Papermakers to 20-0 Win

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Quarterback Tom Roovers gained 110 yards by rushing and completed six of 11 passes to lead Kimberly to a 20-0 Mid-Eastern Conference victory over Menasha here Friday night.

The triumph gives the Papermakers a 1-2 league record and 1-3 for the season. The Bluejays have lost four straight, three in M-E play.

The Jays weren't able to make anything work. They only made three first downs all night and two were via penalties. Their rushing total was just 27 yards and they added six by passing on two completions in 13 attempts.

The Papermakers didn't permit them to get a sustained drive moving at all and they recovered two Menasha fumbles and intercepted three passes.

The hosts threatened in the first quarter when a blocked punt rolled out of bounds on the seven but they only made it to the five in four plays.

The visitors collected 152 yards by rushing and 56 through the air, the majority on short passes from Roovers to Al Hietpas.

Kimberly was its own worst enemy, drawing 12 penalties, two 15-yarders and 10 others for off-side or illegal procedure.

After a scoreless first period, the Papermakers broke the scoring ice in the second when Hietpas intercepted George Manosky's pass on the Bluejay 46 and raced virtually untouched into the end zone. Roovers' placement attempt was wide.

The Papermakers went 29-0 in the second half.

Receivingwise the Packers averaged 18.5 yards per catch in eight games. The Packers and Colts have erased 16 yards on 37 pass re-plays in their short but ceptions. In all Moore scored violent rivalry starting in 1957 seven touchdowns Raymond Ber- and the Colts won nine and the ry also played 10 games vs. Packers won seven. Baltimore Green Bay and caught 47 passes, has won nine of the last 12 games nine for TDs. His catches aver- it appears the Packers have aged 141 yards. Jim Mutscheller their work cut out.

New London Trips Raiders, 33-13, to Keep Share of Lead

Emerich Turns in 3 Touchdown Runs During Homecoming Win

BY JOHN SAWALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON—Dave Emerich, New London's fleet back raced for three long touchdown runs as the New London Bulldogs won their homecoming game by downing previously undefeated Two Rivers, 33-13, Friday night.

The win gives New London three wins against no losses and a tie with Kaukauna for first place in the Mid-Eastern Conference.

In the other New London victories this year, Emerich broke away around the ends for long yardage and touchdowns but in last night's game, the hard blocking New London line opened up huge gaps in the Two Rivers line and Emerich went for scoring runs of 64 and 67 and 56 yards over the guard and tackle positions.

Laux Goes 51

Dan Laux, the other New London halfback, went through the line in the second quarter for a 51-yard scoring run.

New London launched their swift attack and scored on the third play of the game, when Emerich went 64 yards for the first tally.

Two Rivers passing attack was not able to get rolling and the Purple Raiders were unable to move the ball into New London's territory during the first quarter.

Near the end of the quarter, Dan Laux, who moved the ball well throughout the game, broke loose for his 51-yard gallop.

During the third New London scoring drive, Emerich threw a 30-yard pass to right end Don Hanold for the only completed pass of the game for New London. Hanold was downed immediately on the Two Rivers 10. Dave Walmer, who replaced injured fullback Mike Herres drove down to the two and Emerich went into the end zone on the next play.

Brigham Gets Loose

Trailing, 19-0, Two Rivers quarterback Tom Brigham broke loose and went to the New London 18. He then pitched to Ron Razmarynoski, who went into the end zone. Brigham carried for the point.

The Bulldogs took over after Two Rivers' first TD and after Walmer picked up three yards to the Two Rivers 33, Emerich broke loose again and went 67 yards for the score. Don Egan passed to Hanold for the point.

Late in the second quarter, Two Rivers used their shotgun offense and it clicked on the first play as they picked up 46 yards on a pass from Brigham to Razmarynoski. Brigham carried around right end to the 7, he then pushed down to the 3 where he went over right tackle to end the Raiders' scoring for the night.

The only touchdown scored in the second half was at the end of the third quarter after New London recovered a fumble on its own 39. After Walmer moved around his own left end to the 44, Emerich broke over right tackle, out for the sidelines. He received a key block from sophomore Gary Glock and then outran the Two Rivers defense for the score.

The Two Rivers attack bogged Elkhart Lake 49 set up the second on touchdown. The interception came late in the second period and the bespectacled quarterback fired three successive passes to score. The scoring play was a 13-yard aerial to Schweppe. Dobberstein rammed over to give Fox Valley a 13-0 advantage. Mauk scored Elkhart Lake's snapped and did not have time to get into defensive formation.

The Two Rivers game was the last 1961 game for Coach Bob Dehlinger, who is leaving with the 32nd Division and his team carried him off the field after the Bulldogs won their first homecoming game in recent years.

FVL Scores 32-6 Win Over Elkhart Lake

Foxes Cop Aerial Duel for Second Straight Triumph

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran and Elkhart Lake High Schools filled the air with passes Friday afternoon as FVL blazed to a 32-6 victory at Goodland Field.

The two teams fired 47 passes with Elkhart Lake throwing 29 aeriels but completing only five.

Schweppe Dobberstein

The Foxes attempted 19 passes and completed 10 for 114 yards. Elkhart Lake used the pass as the key play in its offense, alternating the pass and running play.

Quarterback Dick Mauk was completely stopped, especially by an alert linebacking corps led by co-Captain Dan Abitz. The linebackers batted down a number of jump passes just over the middle of the line.

The strategy was to pull the defense in and then go for the long one but the FVL deep semarynoski, Brigham carried around right end to the 7, he then pushed down to the 3 where he went over right tackle to end the Raiders' scoring for the night.

The only touchdown scored in the second half was at the end of the third quarter after New London recovered a fumble on its own 39. KAUKAUNA — Bill Van Dyke reeled off a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown, in the third period, to give Kaukauna High School a 6-0 victory over Neenah in a pulsating Mid-Eastern Conference defensive struggle Friday night.

A tremendous, overflow crowd completely encircled the field and frenzy when he took the Neenah saw the Ghosts snap the Rockets' victory chain while extending a pair of their own to four and 12 in two seasons.

With the exception of Van Dyke's dazzling run, it was a bitter defensive struggle throughout the game.

Scoring Threats

Neenah made two serious scoring threats in the first half but the stubborn Kaukauna defense

rose to the occasion each time to stop the Rocket thrusts. Neenah dominated play in the first two periods but the second half was a reversal with the Ghosts controlling the ball most of the time.

Kaukauna's defense limited the Rockets to only 16 yards rushing in the last two periods. Neenah had gained 76 yards on the ground in the first half to 63 for Kaukauna. Of Neenah's six first downs, five came in the first half.

Neenah picked up eight first downs, including five in the second half of play.

Van Dyke sent the Kaukauna followers into a frenzy when he took the Neenah saw the Ghosts snap the Rockets' victory chain while extending a pair of their own to four and 12 in two seasons.

With the exception of Van Dyke's dazzling run, it was a bitter defensive struggle throughout the game.

Last Chance

Neenah's Fran Goetz had the last chance to get Van Dyke as he chased him from the 35 to the end zone but could not catch the fast-stepping Ghost. Van Dyke had about a 7-yard lead on Goetz and kept it the rest of the way.

Neenah got off to a shaky start when Joe Began fumbled on the first play after the opening kickoff, and Dick Rademacher recovered for the Ghosts on the Rocket 47. The Ghosts penetrated to the Neenah 35, but a 15-yard penalty set them back and Kaukauna was forced to punt.

The Rockets got their initial drive under way near the end of the first period. Neenah started from its own 21, picked up a pair of first downs on running plays and a 19 yard pass to Began put the ball on the Kaukauna 27.

Began went around right end for 18 yards to the Kaukauna nine. A penalty set the Rockets back to the 14 and Steve Hidebrand's pass was incomplete. Fullback Jim Weinke bulled his way to the 12 and Hidebrand's next two pass attempts were incomplete and Kaukauna took over.

The Rockets got another march

Cassius Clay Meets Rugged Alex Miteff

Olympic Champion Rated 2-1 Favorite In Louisville Match

LOUISVILLE, K6. (AP)—Can Olympic Champion Cassius Clay take a real hard punch?

That question will be answered tonight when the 19-year-old Louisville meets Argentina's rugged Alex Miteff in a scheduled 10-round nationally televised (ABC TV, 9 p.m. EST) boxing match at Freedom Hall. Clay is rated the 2-1 favorite.

Both heavyweights are expected to be in peak condition for the bout. Clay, who won the Olympic light heavyweight title last summer at Rome, will weigh in at about 192 against Miteff's 205 pounds.

Gil Clancy, co-manager and trainer of Miteff, said he was confident Miteff's strength and power would prove too much for Clay.

Peak of Condition

"Since Alex is in the peak of condition for the first time in a long time, I'll go stronger than that. I'll say he (Miteff) will stop Clay. It will be just a matter of time until he catches up with him and then boom," Clancy said.

If Miteff does connect it will answer the question whether Clay can take a real good punch. So far he hasn't had to. Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, thinks his fighter has acquired in his eight professional fights the ability to beat the veteran Miteff. Clay has an 8-0 record as a professional. The 26-year-old Miteff has compiled a 24-10-1 mark. He has kayed 14 of his victims.

Neenah Harriers Beat Kimberly

Dennis Schumacher, of Kimberly, placed fifth.

Averages 33.2 Points

Unitas Has Passed for 20 TDs Against Bays

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — John Unitas has had the pleasure of scoring eight TDs — on the average—33.2 points and throwing slightly over two touchdowns passes of his nine games against the Packers in his five pro seasons.

The Colts' peerless general, who Colts (including one attempt in hurls against Green Bay) in City one 1956 game) and hurled 170 Stadium Sunday afternoon (kick off 1:06), has thrown 237 passes yards and four TDs passes. These vs. Green Bay and completed figures average out to 24 at 126 for 1,853 yards and 20 touchdowns — and a completion percentage of 53.2.

That averages out to 26 attempts per game, 14 completions, 265 yards and two touchdowns.

Could Have Trouble

If Unitas maintains that aerial average here Sunday, the Packers could have trouble—not to mention that blistering 33.2 Hornung has averaged 54 yards points, 239 in nine games, which in 61 trips in eight games Taylor would be slightly lower since he has rushed for seven touchdowns missed part of that 56-0 game in Baltimore in 1959.

What have Unitas' three top receivers done against Green Bay? The "long ball" vs. the Colts. Max Lenny Moore played 10 games vs. the Packers and averaged on 28 catches in eight games, seven yards in 78 rushes. He averaged 16 yards on 37 pass re-plays in their short but ceptions. In all Moore scored violent rivalry starting in 1957 seven touchdowns Raymond Ber- and the Colts won nine and the ry also played 10 games vs. Packers won seven. Baltimore Green Bay and caught 47 passes, has won nine of the last 12 games nine for TDs. His catches aver- it appears the Packers have aged 141 yards. Jim Mutscheller their work cut out.

long enough to reach TD territory.

Hawks Explosive

Though the Chuter defenders tackled with conviction, they were unable to contain the explosive Hawks on key plays.

The loss was the most one-sided sustained by Bill Fitzpatrick in a brilliant 11-year coaching regime at St. John.

The shifty Werner raced the game - opening kick-off back 28 yards to the Chuter 49. Bleier swept end for eight and Werner added four for a first down to the 37.

Wiesner, a masterful ball-handler last night, rolled out and hit Lueck with a pass that brought the ball just outside the St. John 10. Despite being tagged with a 5-yard penalty, the determined Dutchmen forced Xavier into a fourth - down play. With the Hawks literally an inch short of a first down and a foot away from a touchdown, sophomore Bleier punched it over. Wiesner kicked the first of his four extra points.

When a Chuter punt attempt went awry on the St. John 24, the Hawks were in position for a second quick score. But, the Dutchmen held and took the ball away on their own 22.

Reach Xavier 18

Strong running by Joe Verkuielen and Jim Van Asten and two completions by Geerts brought the Chuters three straight first downs and position on the Xavier 18. Bleier, however, short - circled an aerial on his own 15 and scooted back 28 yards.

The Gene Clark - coached Hawks covered the final 57 yards to the goal in 10 plays. The big gainers were a pile - driving charge of 12 yards by Tom Peeters, an 11-yard sprint by Bleier and a 10-yard pass to Rankin. Wiesner went through center for the final two yards on a keep.

Later in the second period, Flanagan pounced on a bobbled Chuter pitch-out and ran it back nine yards to the St. John 21. Giants in a game that should have a 5-yard penalty and a 5-yard Bleier blast brought the ball to the 10.

Wiesner hid the ball expertly on a rollout to his left and pitched into the end zone to Rankin, who made a nifty reach-in catch.

Xavier scored the first two times it had possession in the second half. Lueck, in probably his best football night as a Hawk, intercepted on his own 45 and returned the ball 28 yards. A 45 after a punt and needed only 15 - yard personal foul penalty moved the ball to the St. John 12.

NFL Club Owners Refuse to Waive 'Service' Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, said Friday the club owners refused to waive a league rule which would, in effect, allow Dick Schafrath to play with the Cleveland Browns against Washington Sunday.

Schafrath, a tackle, was called to active military duty after last week's game. The league constitution prohibits a service man on active duty from playing in a league game.

The NFL conducted a telegraph poll of the club owners to see if they would waive the rule. An NFL spokesman said they failed to get unanimous consent, which is required. The vote was not announced.

Oshkosh Defeats Upset-Minded North, Retains Share of Lead

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh High School cashed in on two second half breaks to score a 27-21 homecoming win over an upset-minded Sheboygan North "11" here Friday night.

Roger Beck returned a blocked field goal attempt by the Golden Raiders' Bill Dwyre 88 yards early in the fourth quarter to break a 14-14 deadlock. A short time later John Moore intercepted a Dwyre pass on Sheboygan's 30-yard line and returned it to the 17. Steve Lange scored from the 13 three plays later.

The Indians kept their Fox River Valley Conference slate clean with the win, remaining in a first place tie with Green Bay West. Both teams have 3-0 records.

Games 86 Yards

Jim Stuefen, a 160-pound senior halfback from Sheboygan, took some of the play away from Oshkosh's speedy backfield, lugging the ball on 26 of Sheboygan's 38 running plays for 86 yards. However, he had to yield ground gaining honors to the Indians' Steve Lange. Lange carried nine times for 101 yards.

Oshkosh scored the first time it had the ball. A 15-yard penalty set Sheboygan back after it received the opening kickoff and Bill Farrey punted out to his 45. Lange took a pitch-out on the first play and threaded his way down the east sideline for the score. Lange hunted the extra point and Oshkosh led 7-0 before Tony Skenadore raced around right end for four yards to give Freedom the lead. The run capped a 40-yard march which began after Freedom recovered a Denmark fumble. Skenadore's kick was good.

Darrell Lemmons pushed over for the tying touchdown in the second period for Denmark. He scored from the one and then threw to Dave Larsen for the extra point.

The Lemmons-Rabideau combination hooked up on a 40-yard pass play in the third quarter to give Denmark a 13-7 advantage.

Wayne Schleis intercepted a pass and rambled 50 yards for the third Denmark touchdown still in the third period.

Freedom scored its other TD when Jim Brockman caught a 5-yard pass from Jerry Stadler.

Navy Scores 17-6 Upset Over Miami

Penn State Downs Boston, 32-0; Florida Rallies to Beat Tulane

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A shoeless quarterback, a major upset, a disabled referee and an odd injury served to introduce the season's third big college football weekend Friday night.

Navy's hard-charging Middles not only ripped Miami's offensive patterns at key moments enroute to a 17-6 upset, but also piled up a referee so badly he had to leave the game.

Penn State quarterback Pete Liske, who inherited the No. 1 job only this week, ably directed the Nittany Lions to a first half lead, and capped his effort by literally running out of a shoe on a 33-yard touchdown that capped State's 32-0 conquest of hapless Boston University.

Sleeper Play

Florida used the old sleeper play and a second string quarterback to engineer a second half comeback and a 14-3 victory over winless Tulane.

Fired-up Navy gave halfback Jim Stewart beautiful downfield blocking as he swept 83 yards on a swing pass play that accounted for a 7-0 second quarter lead over two-touchdown favorite Miami. Navy defenders made the lead stand up, charging so hard they not only rocked the Miami runners but put referee John Lynch out of the game after he got in the way of a Navy back.

Sophomore Liske, who took over the top signal calling job when veteran Galen Hall was injured last week, passed Penn State into position for a first half touchdown and a field goal, and put on the finishing touches with his shoe-dropping touchdown sprint.

Bobby Dodd Jr., son of the Georgia Tech football coach, directed Florida's second half rally that overcame Tulane's 3-0 lead. He plunged over from the one, capping a 58-yard drive, in the third and connected with fullback Jim O'Donnell, who appeared to be trotting off the field as Dodd called signals, for a 44-yard touchdown on the old sleeper play.

Coach Dave Umnus' boys drove 68 yards for their final period touchdown with Wayne Koenig going the last 30 yards through the middle of the Resorser defense. The extra point failed because of a bad pass from the center and the score remained at 32-6.

The fleet Dobberstein, who is adopt at changing pace and has a pretty fair knowledge as to how to use his blockers, picked up 118 yards on the ground in 17 rushes. Powerful Dave Mueller, another key man in the Fox Valley offense, drove for 32 yards in nine carries.

Judge Gives Sentences to Men for Theft

Furnishings, Stolen From House Trailer, Spotted by Friend

WAUPACA — A Chicago man was sentenced to a year in the state prison at Waupun and a rural Iowa man was placed on probation for two years Friday morning by Judge Wendell McHenry on charges of theft.

Louis Fiehl, 35, Chicago, pleaded guilty in County Court and was sentenced to not less than one year nor more than 18 months in the state prison.

Raymond F. Schiesser Jr., 26, route 2, Iowa, was sentenced to 18 months in the State Reformatory in Green Bay. The sentence was stayed, and he was placed on probation for two years with the provision that if he violates his probation he will be immediately transported to Green Bay to serve the sentence.

County, Manawa and Iowa police and the sheriff's department took part in the apprehension of the two men. They admitted breaking into a vacant house trailer owned by George and Anna Wilhelm of Iowa on County Con Sept. 22.

They took more than $200 worth of household furnishings. They were identified through a piece of furniture they sold to an Iowa woman which was seen in her home by a friend of Wilhelm.

They both waived preliminary hearing when they were arraigned before Police Justice George Whalen Sept. 29.

White Lake May be in Danger

Opening of Control Dam Referred To PSC for Disciplinary Action

WAUPACA — The opening of the dam and the illegal removal of the carp screen from the White Lake dam has been referred to the Public Service Commission for possible disciplinary action by the conservation department.

If carp did and are going back into the lake it will nullify a major project of lake improvement, which included the draining of the lake, planting feed and restocking fish.

The gate was opened Sept. 23, when the fish screen was removed. Although the gate has been closed since, the screen which was installed to keep carp out of the lake has not been replaced.

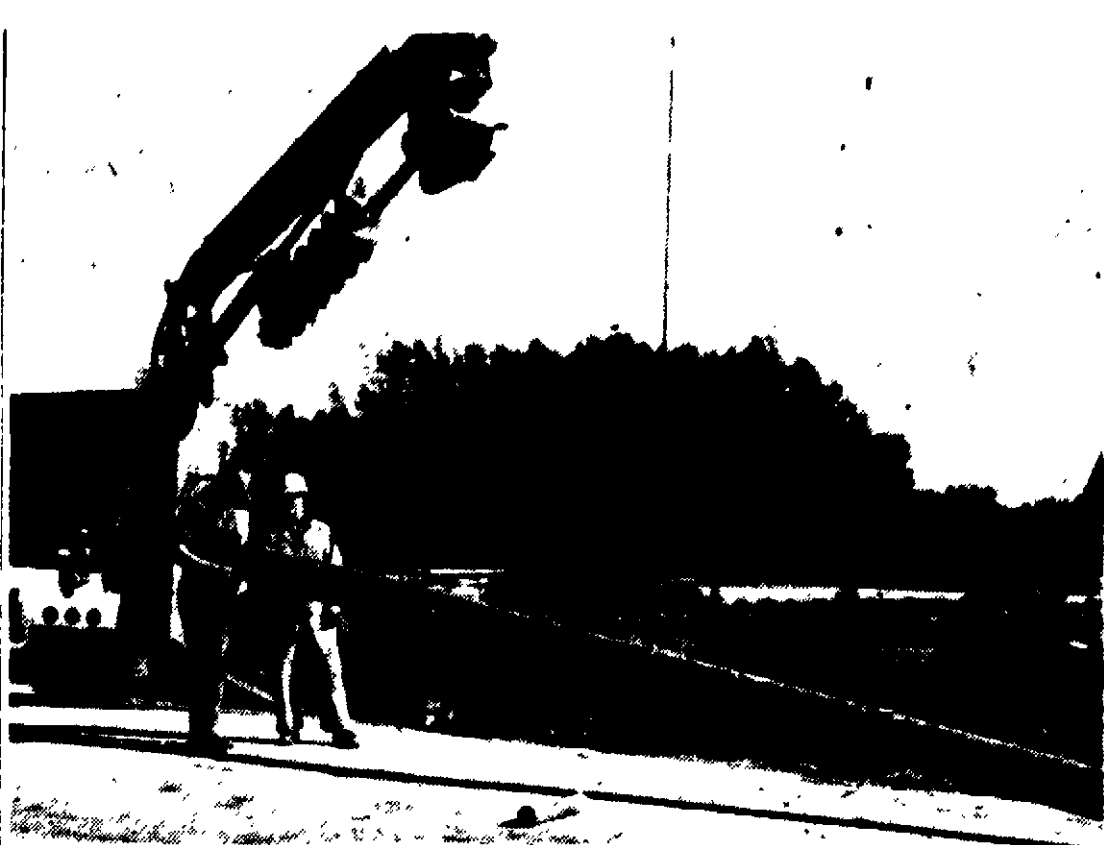

Carp Contaminated — Area conservation men believe the lake may have become carp contaminated by the unauthorized removal of the screen and the opening of the dam.

Control of the water level of the lake has been vested with the Waupaca County Board by the Public Service Commission. The dam opening was ordered done by two of the property owners, who hired a private contractor, the conservation department said.

The names of the people responsible have been reported to the commission by the department.

This year was the first fishing season White Lake reached its Alvin Neuhauer and Mrs. Malcolm peak. Anglers reported catching jumbo perch, varieties of panfish, bass and northern.

It is a unique lake because it is filled primarily by rain. The entire area slopes down to the lake and the rainfall governs

Steiner Tissue Leaving Kaukauna

Firm Losing Money With Plant So Far From Office, Chairman Says

KAUKAUNA — Steiner Tissue converting mill, making paper Mills will suspend its operations napkins.

here in six or seven months, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

Work done at the Kaukauna mill will be transferred to the firm's other plants in Albany, N. Y., and Gary, Ind., the announcement said.

Frank G. Steiner, chairman of the board, said this morning "There is no chance the board of directors will change its mind about shutting down the Kaukauna mill."

Steiner's statement was made in a telegram to Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, who telegraphed Steiner asking the company to reconsider its decision, and promising all possible help from the city to make the mill a success.

Losses Cited — The Kaukauna mill has been in operation since 1955 and employs about 65 people. It is a 60 per cent of capacity and is running at a loss.

He cited high transportation costs as another reason for the closing. Paper is sent from the Albany plant to Kaukauna for converting processes, then shipped back to Albany.

Steiner said it costs $43.80 a ton to ship paper from Albany to Kaukauna and back to Albany.

The cost from Gary to Albany is much less, he said.

"The workers we have at the Kaukauna plant are excellent, the best we've ever had anywhere," Steiner said.

The Kaukauna plant will continue to serve as a warehouse for the firm.

"There will be some employment at the warehouse but it will be limited," said Donald Tomazevic, office manager in Kaukauna.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church were in charge of the canteen.

Volunteers were Mrs. Albert Jarnick, Mrs. Kenneth Waid, Mrs. Charles Booth, Mrs. Art Gensmer, Mrs. Donald Fosgate, Mrs. Monica Burgoyne, Mrs. Hazel Smith, Mrs. Levi Wait and Mrs. James Bowersox.

Typists were Mrs. Fred Mantel, chairman, Mrs. Walter Webster and Mrs. Floyd Jenkins. Mrs. Don Fallgatter was in charge of numbering the bottles. Mrs. Chesler Nichols, Mrs. John Gusmer and Mrs. Gene Johnson were receptionists.

Before the queen was selected the students and alumni were addressed by Edward "Ned" Demming, a graduate of Washington High. Various classes presented pep skits to cheer their team to victory tonight.

Following the parade this afternoon, students will hold a bonfire pep rally behind the high school at 6:30 and then march to the game at Hatten Memorial Stadium. They will be led by the high school band.

Official Visits Lodge — WAUPACA — Mrs. Fred Wahlquist, Bayfield, made her official visit to the Samaritan Rebekah lodge Thursday night at the Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Wahlquist is assembly president.

Extensive work was done in 1957 to improve the lake. It was drained and all carp were taken out. The bottom of the lake was allowed to harden and the dam was rebuilt in 1958. Some of the funds were provided by the White Lake Improvement Association and the remainder was furnished by the county.

The Conservation Department furnished manpower and work in rehabilitation of the lake.

Two Years to Fill — It took almost two years for the lake to fill after it was drained. During the last three years, however, there has been excellent duck hunting. This year again holds much promise for the hunters.

If carp are back in the lake, their presence will be noted in about two years when they will start to root up vegetation and muddy the water.

Increase of $1,500 Over 1961 at Chilton For Improvements

CHILTON — The Chilton Recreation Department has prepared a $6,300 budget for 1962.

This is an increase of $1,500 over the current year's $4,800 which fell far short of financing the program. Expenses this year are expected to total $6,276, establishing the basis for the 1962 budget.

Despite a $200 donation from the Kiwanis Club, the $4,800 account for this year is already $108 overdrawn with expenses through August totaling $5,110.

Vastly Improved — The vastly improved summer playground program and revised adult winter recreation are mainly responsible for the increased recreation costs.

The Recreation Committee will ask the city to contribute $5,700 of the 1962 total with the remaining $600 expected to come from outside sources, the Community Fund and Kiwanis Club.

Actual and anticipated expenditures this year include $2,819 for the summer playground and swimming program; $1,800, youth center; $680, equipment; $619, winter program; $343, ice skating, and $17.55, miscellaneous.

Audited 1960 recreation costs were $4,775.

Proposal to Share Room With County Board Under Consideration by Committee

The new County Court soon ruled that a hospital fund cannot be used for the court addition as had been hoped.

A recommendation that the county board room be used temporarily for a court room for the third branch of the County Court is expected to be presented to the county board by November.

Gordon Schultz, chairman of the county public property and insurance committee, said the committee discussed the proposal at a meeting this week.

A new branch of the County Court system will come into existence in January, 1962. There is at present no place for the court to operate.

Financial Snag — An addition to the courthouse, including a courtroom and new jail facilities, has been proposed. The county has run into a snag in financing the addition.

Schultz said the minutes of the committee meeting will be read at the October county board meeting and may prompt discussion of the problem.

He added that the committee has the authority to assign the space without county board approval, but would present the proposal to the board for confirmation.

Minor Changes — Few changes would be necessary to convert the room for use as a court, Schultz said.

Two rows of desks would have to be pushed aside to provide space in front of the bench. The major revision would be converting the county board committee room into a court office and judges chamber.

Schultz said the court schedule and board meetings would have to be coordinated, and the Circuit or Municipal Court room might possibly be open for proceedings if there is a conflict.

No Hospital Funds — The county board and court would share the room for at least a year, Schultz said. He said several plans to finance the addition are being considered.

Victim of Fraud — "After six months in the organization, it suddenly dawned on me that I had been trapped, a victim of fraud—and I was up to my ears in it," said Philbrick after he learned that the council was controlled by Communists and used as a "front organization."

"I decided to get out, and let people know how innocent youth had been taken in. The FBI was the only place I knew where to turn," he continued.

Philbrick said that during the nine years he spent countering the Reds, he received absolutely no pay from the American government. The FBI, however, did pay some of my expenses, such as my Communist Party dues, he added.

The "fronts" unsuspectingly relay lies, falsehoods and fraud to thousands and thousands of unsocialized world.

Philbrick said he approved the work of such anti-communist organizations as the John Birch Society and the Cardinal Mindzenty organization. He added that he was not a member of the right-wing Birch group, but has met many members, and all seem to be rendering a great service to alert the people.

"The best way to fight Communism is to be educated. Know what Communism is and how its agents work, and to lighten up loopholes in American security measures," he added.

Flooded With Mail — Philbrick said that American citizens are "paying the price" for the flood of unsolicited Communist propaganda delivered to the police department, Chief Taubel said.

The police chief also said Pelzer on various occasions has donated other first aid and emergency items to the police department.

He quoted FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as saying there are 10,000 Party members in the U. S. and estimated there were about 300 in Wisconsin.

Gambling Casino To Open in Hotel

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The Dorado Beach Hotel owned by Laurence S. Rockefeller is planning to open a gambling casino.

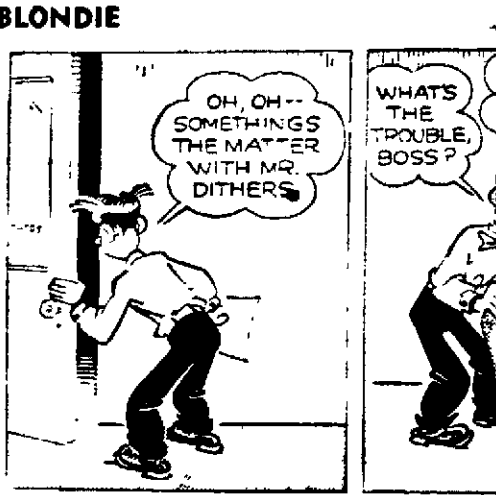

"Our casino will be operated more as another guest activity than as a money-making venture," says a spokesman for Rand House.

The casino will be small and although it will be open to the public due to the distance from San Juan it is unlikely that many people other than guests will use it.

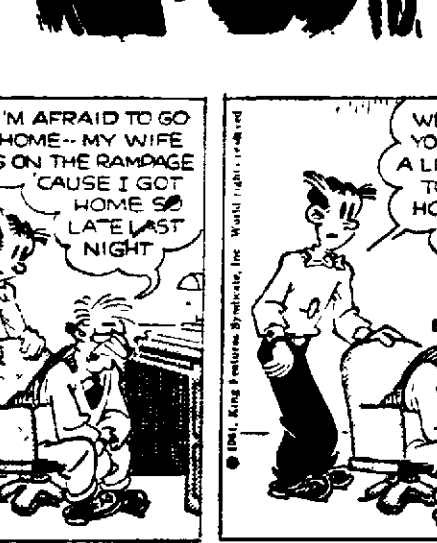

New casinos will also open in the Americana and Sheraton hotels when they open next year. The Dorado Beach, going up not far from the Dorado Beach, also is expected to have a casino.

The far-reaching principle was set up in a 3-to-2 decision.

The ruling upset an earlier decision by a three-man panel of board members.

CHILTON — Paul Reinkober fired two touchdown passes Friday night at Kohler giving the Chilton Tigers a 12-7 victory, which kept the Tigers Eastern Wisconsin Conference title hopes alive.

The game winning aerial came midway in the fourth period and pulled the Tigers from a 7-6 deficit. Reinkober evaded two tacklers, then set himself and threw the pass up the middle, to half-back Dick Rollmann who took it on the five and went over untouched. It was a 27-yard scoring play.

An alert defensive play by Bill Bittner set up the winning score. Bittner recovered a Kohler fumble on Kohler's 48. Reinkober passed 19 yards to Tom Selk on the first play of the drive, which took just four plays.

Recover Fumble

After pushing over the clincher, Chilton stopped the Bombers and drove again deep into Kohler territory before the defense stiffened on the seven, thanks mainly to a Chilton fumble which the Tigers recovered, but for a loss.

Trailing, the Bombers were forced to go to the air and Dan Maxson intercepted a Harland Hyink pass and returned to the Kohler 15 when the final gun sounded.

The Tigers scored the first time they got their hands on the ball. In their big fourth period, Tom Kohler received the game opening kickoff and was hurried back. The punt gave Chilton the ball at midfield.

Sticking to the ground, Chilton moved to the Kohler 18, and Reinkober stepped back and found his big end, Steve Thurwachter, ambling into the corner of the end zone.

Teams Battle To Scoreless Tie in Game

Howards Grove, Hilbert Unable to Capitalize on Breaks

HILBERT — Howards Grove High School's football team battled Hilbert to a scoreless deadlock here Friday afternoon.

The tie kept Hilbert undefeated in the current campaign. The Wolves won their first three contests.

Two first period assaults on the Hilbert goal line were the only serious threats mustered by the visitors. Howards Grove marched to the Hilbert 35 with the opening kickoff before stalling.

Bogged Down

Four plays later they recovered a Hilbert fumble and were again in scoring position but bogged down on the Hilbert 15 as the quarter ended.

After taking over on downs, Hilbert marched quickly downfield with a 30 yard Hackbarth to Federwitz pass the key play. The Wolves moved to the Howards Grove 10 yard line from where Roger Schneider ripped into the end zone only to have the scoring jaunt nullified by a 15-yard holding penalty. It was the fifth Hilbert touchdown nullified by infractions this season.

Hilbert's Roehrig shook loose for a 35-yard scamper to give Hilbert position in the third quarter and Allan Pruess went 38 yards with a short pass in the fourth frame. Pruess was stopped on the visitors' 27 and the drive ended on the 20.

Snuff Threat

An interception snuffed a late Hilbert threat. The Wolves were inside the visitor 20 when the pass was picked off.

Statistically, the Wolves held a decided advantage. They rolled up 236 total yards including 159 rushing and 77 passing. The visitors had 131 yards in all; 78 rushing and 53 passing. First downs were Hilbert 11 and Howards Grove eight.

the second quarter, about a minute before the first half ended.

The scoring play was a 21-yard aerial from Harland Hyink to Steve Zillier and Mike Kober rammed over for the point.

Punts Roll Dead

Twice Kohler punts rolled dead on the Chilton 12-yard stripe putting the Tigers in the hole. The second punt set up the Kohler touchdown when Chilton was unable to move the ball and punted short into the wind.

Chilton recovered three Kohler fumbles. Besides the Bittner's key fourth period recovery, one in the third period played a big role in preserving the Tiger victory. Mike Kober, a quick and hard hitting Bomber back, broke off tackle for 32 yards only to fumble when he was hit on Chilton's 34 yard line.

Minus Rushing

The Tiger defense, playing without two stalwarts, Jim Wagner and Steve Compton, limited Kohler to minus rushing yardage in the first half.

Chilton threatened in the third quarter, moving to the Kohler 25 when a fourth down play failed to gain the six inches needed for a first down.

Fans and coaches from both schools howled repeatedly over the officiating. Both coaches at times stalked onto the field to question decisions.

New Holstein

New Holstein won its second EW contest Friday night at Oostburg trouncing the Flying Dutchmen 32-6 with three spectacular fourth quarter touchdowns.

The winners scored in the first quarter on Kieth Kohlman's 13 yard sprint and got a touchdown in the second quarter when John Lodes blocked an Oostburg punt on the hosts' 30, picked it up on the 15 and went over.

In their big fourth period, Tom Riebrov took a 21 yard pass from Ken Heiner for the first TD. The punt gave Chilton the ball at second touchdown was a 67-yard run by Lee Spletter. Heiner passed 40 yards to Vern Bonlander for the third.

Gary Scholten went 26 yards for Oostburg's lone touchdown which came in the final period.

Valders Loses

League leading Sheboygan Falls hammered Valders 20-0. A blocking punt by Ken Dean on the Valders' 20 gave Falls its first touchdown when Dean recovered the ball and carried it over.

Bob Putz took a 25-yard pass from Ed Kalupa for the second period score, and Putz scored the third on an end-around from the five in the fourth quarter.

Valders drove to the Falls 10-yard line late in the game but an interception killed the threat preserving the Falcon record of not having been scored on this year.

Convicted Man Must Lock Up Tavern, Improve Home

By today a Town of Oneida man must sell his liquor license. Judge Keller first considered telling Cornelius to move, but, at the defendant's request, allowed improvements, including indoor plumbing, to the present home to be made.

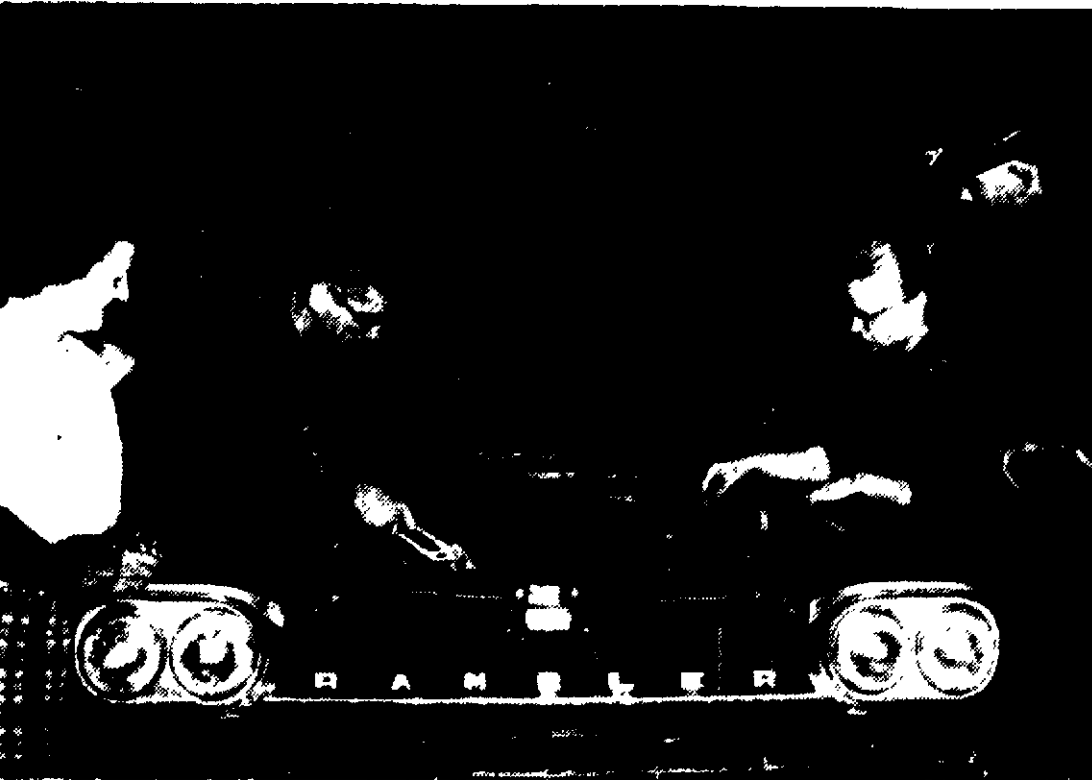

Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller ordered Wednesday morning that Orville Cornelius, 32, cannot tend bar or become involved in the tavern business, the court ruled.

"Trying To Help" "Sometimes all of us have problems," the judge counseled Cornelius. "Instead of going to friends or others that can help us we try to work them out by ourselves, and the problems are the too big for us."

Judge Keller ordered that Cornelius give up the tavern because business was sapping Cornelius' wages. The husband and wife were arguing about the tavern's new, the probation agent and myself success when Cornelius struck his wife three times at feel better by telling your problem to someone. Let's forget what happened in the past."

Repeatedly, the judge told Cornelius of his duty to protect his county welfare worker, called into the courtroom by the judge, described the living conditions at the tavern-home as inadequate. Cornelius' wife accompany him.

Labor Group Opposed to Bookmobile

The Appleton Federation of Labor is opposed to the city appropriating about $40,000 for a library bookmobile.

Mayor Mitchell has received a letter from Harold L. Clark, federation secretary, saying that a bookmobile is not a permanent solution to library needs.

"Appleton needs another library, or possibly more," Clark states, "and this would mean more work for more people."

A library building would be here for 20 years and more, he says. He also suggests using public school libraries for branch libraries.

The library board requested a bookmobile last year, but other city needs were given priority. This year the request is being renewed.

Library trustees reported at that time they did not think using school libraries for branches would be wise. There would have to be numerous duplications of books, they said, as well as more personnel than are needed to operate a bookmobile. Keeping schools open to the public in summer for library service would pose a big problem, they said.

Plymouth Loses, 20-6

Vicious Defense Aids Brillion Grid Upset

BRILLION — Ken Belanger's fancy open field stepping and vicious defensive play by the Brillion Lions resulted in a clean-cut 20-6 upset of Plymouth in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play Friday night at Plymouth. The win kept Brillion in a tie for second place with Chilton.

Belanger took off on a daring 47-yard scoring scamper running on a fake punt with 15 second left to play in the first half. The gamble put Brillion into a 13-6 halftime lead, and the Lions were never headed thereafter.

Scores First

Plymouth scored first. Their touchdown came on a 55-yard drive early in the game. Randy Kempnauer, an end, scored from nine yards out coming around on a reverse. Dick Miller crashed through and blocked the conversion attempt, regarded as a key play by coach Allan Coenen.

Ken Belanger took the ensuing kickoff and raced 90 yards with it. An official ruled he stepped on the chalk line at the Plymouth 45. On the first play, Brillion drew a 15-yard walkoff, but the determined Lions started a 60-yard scoring drive capped by Belanger's 29 yard pass to Don Heimke. Belanger booted what was eventually the winning point.

Scores Again

Brillion scored again in the second quarter, the run by Belanger on the fake punt. He swept right end, picked up tremendous downfield blocking and outran the final defender.

In the third quarter it was Belanger again. He raced 62 yards on a rollout to climax a 68 yard drive in two plays. Belanger converted.

With Plymouth driving toward the Brillion goal early in the fourth period, Belanger authored another chapter to his heroics by picking off a pass to thwart the threat.

Brillion picked up 207 yards rushing and 45 in the air on three completions in four attempts. One was intercepted. A stubborn defense limited Plymouth to 95 rushing yards and 59 in the air. Plymouth completed six of 15 and had one intercepted.

Rehabilitation Value Told to Health Group

No Need to Alter Compensation Laws, Claims, Official Says

DENVER — Rehabilitation programs involving persons disabled at their jobs can be substantially improved in most states without altering workmen's compensation laws, an insurance executive told the closing session of the 21st Congress on Occupational Health.

J. E. Linstner, vice president-claims of Employers Mutuals of Wausau, also observed that increasing attention now being paid to rehabilitation, combined with medical and technical advances "is bringing us closer to the ultimate objective of any rehabilitation program—the return to gainful employment of all employees injured in industry."

The annual congress, sponsored by the Council on Occupational Health of the American Medical Association, was told by Linstner that "those who are completely objective about the areas where there is real need for improvement in rehabilitation of injured workers agree that much could be accomplished by a better liaison between the medical profession, insurance industry and administrators of rehabilitation programs and facilities at the community level."

"Through this liaison," Linstner remarked, "those who really make the day-to-day decisions regarding the future of a rehabilitation program in a community will become cognizant of the human and economic value of rehabilitation."

The proximity of the rehabilitation center to the patient's family and friends is an important part of the entire program, Linstner said. Another important factor is encouragement and inspiration, which he said is best provided by other disabled persons who are progressing in the rehabilitation center where the patient is taken.

East-West Bureaucracy Costs Man His Car

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — East or West a bureaucrat is a bureaucrat. Ask William J. Powers of Newark, N.J., who wrestled the authorities from both sides of the Iron Curtain for three long years — and lost.

Powers bought a Volkswagen for $1,200 in West Berlin in July 1958.

U. S. Denies Plot to Force Other Nations To Break With Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department branded as false Friday charges by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that the United States has conspired to force other countries to break diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Press officer Joseph Reap said that Castro in a speech Thursday and Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a letter to the president of the United Nations General Assembly, had made such charges.

Reap commented "They constitute another of many transparent attempts by the government of Cuba to cloak its interventionist activity implicit in documents recently made public."

Reap was referring primarily to documents recently made available to the U.S. government by a Cuban diplomat who quit the Cuban government in his post at Buenos Aires.

Upper Michigan Peninsula Man To Buy Idle Mine

IRONWOOD Mich. (AP)—Upper Michigan men have combined to purchase the Sunday Lake Iron Co. mine facilities at Wakefield Mich.

The purchase of the mine, idle since last Feb. 16, by a group of individuals is believed unique in the iron ore mining industry.

Details of the sale were announced this week by Pickands Mather & Co., agents for Sunday Lake Mine Co. Pickands Mather claimed the $1,200 as a loss on his 1958 income tax.

West's Turn

Now it was the West's turn.

The Internal Revenue Service checked its rulebooks and said no one can claim a Communist-seized car as a tax loss. Only "theft" or a "casualty" counts.

The revenue men said Powers wanted to go to East Germany.

Finally Powers gave up and claimed the $1,200 as a loss on his 1958 income tax.

Not Theft

"The confiscation of (Powers') automobile by officials in East Germany acting under color of legal authority, arbitrary and despotic as it may have been, could not have been a 'theft' for tax deduction purposes," he wrote.

It was also not a "casualty," like a fire, storm or shipwreck. It did not "embody the requisite element of chance, accident or contingency," the judge said.

"Powers' loss, though unfortunate, was no more than a personal expense to him for the deduction of which the statute makes no provision."

Giraffes Arrive at Milwaukee Zoo

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A truckload of giraffes arrived here after a neck and neck race from the East Coast against the arrival of cold weather.

The four two-year old arrivals from Nairobi, Kenya, were loaded at the new Milwaukee Zoo from a truck which had averaged 30 miles an hour on the trip—not exactly break neck speed but the fastest allowable under the conditions.

The smallest of the arrivals is nine feet tall.

Punch Buckley the Britisher who captured the giraffes a few weeks ago and accompanied them on the trip said he thinks the animals will be as well off as they were on the plains of Africa.

"Nobody knew of course, how the giraffes felt."

Reconstituted Beer Battle Before IRS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service Friday set Nov. 1 for the next hearing in the running battle over reconstituted beer.

At a hearing held Thursday, Commissioner George P. Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration recommended that if reconstituted beer is put on the market, each bottle and can should be plainly so labeled.

A spokesman for the United States Brewers Association, R. B. Bostock, vice president of P. Balantine & Sons, objected that this would be "the kiss of death" for public acceptance of the new product.

Call Flavor Identical
Other brewers, including Norman Klug, president of the Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, supported Bostock. The labeling would be superfluous, they contended, because the new process produces beer identical in flavor and substances with the beer they now sell.

The Miller Co. was the pioneer in testing the process developed by Union Carbide Corp. It would permit brewers to extract the water from beer, store and ship the condensed product at considerable saving in cost and space, and then reconstitute the brew before it is bottled for sale.

The Miller firm has announced it will adopt the process if the Revenue Service approves it, but also has declared its objection to "any different requirement in labeling than we are using at the present time."

Two Fined for Topsy Driving

Appleton Woman Drives Away When Stopped by Police

Two Appleton people have been fined for drunken driving and lost their driving privileges for a year in two Fox Cities area courts.

Mrs. Charles Klucker, 40, 708 E. Pershing St., Friday forfeited $100 when she failed to appear before Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Mrs. Klucker entered a plea of no contest to the charge through her attorney. She had pleaded innocent Aug. 21.

Walks Home
Mrs. Klucker was arrested early Aug. 16 by Appleton police after they saw her driving erratically and traveling at speeds in excess of 40 miles an hour on N. Oneida Street.

A patrolman stopped her once on E. Marquette Street, but when he got out of the car she drove away. He stopped her again at E. Marquette and Morrison streets.

The patrolman radioed for assistance when Mrs. Klucker refused to come to the police station and began walking home. She tested .22 on the drunkometer. A test of 15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Edward Traeder, 54, 1928 S. Lave St., was found guilty of drunken driving Wednesday morning by Police Justice George Whalen at the Waupaca City Hall.

The court ordered Traeder forfeit $200 from the $250 bond, which he deposited when he pleaded innocent Sept. 20.

Traeder was arrested by Waupaca County police Sept. 19 on U.S. 10 in Fremont.

UW Sets Up Group To Give Advice On Military Duty

MADISON (AP) — A committee to advise students and staff members on fulfillment of their military obligations has been set up at the University of Wisconsin.

The committee was appointed Friday in view of the call to federal duty of the Wisconsin National Guard and some state reserve units.

The group will be headed by Harry M. Schuck of the School of Commerce. He said no requests have been made by students for deferment or delay of induction but there may be some in the future.

The committee will advise students and forward requests for deferment to proper authorities.

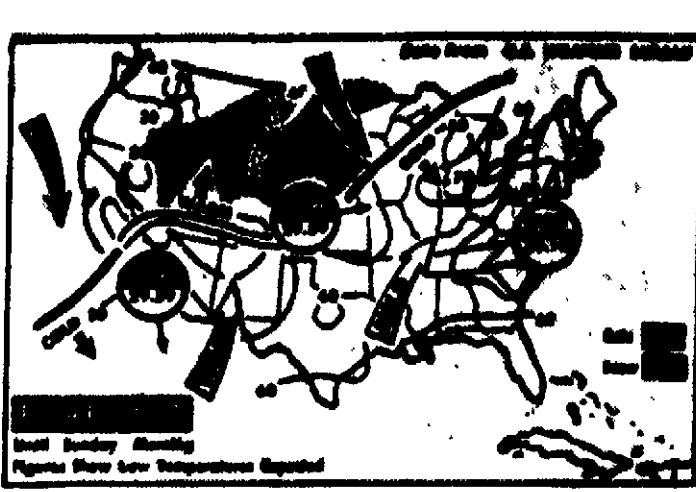

Eighth Successive Titan Test Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force sent its Titan intercontinental range missile winging to its eighth straight success on a 5,000-mile test flight down the Atlantic range Friday night.

The flight further confirmed reliability of the Titan and edged it nearer combat readiness. The first nine-missile squadron is slated for deployment at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., late this year.

The success was the third this week for a long-range U.S. missile. Earlier, two Atlases hit targets 5,000 and 9,000 miles away.

The Titan was steered by a self-contained inertial guidance system designed for use in later, more powerful Titan I missiles.

It Will Continue mild and clear tonight in the eastern half of the nation and into the southwestern border states. Some rain is forecast for the upper Mississippi Valley. Snow is expected in higher elevations of the Rockies. Cooler weather is expected in the Great Plains.

Surgeons Jam Talks On Cancer Treatment

Convention Panel on Use of Drugs In Combating Illness Draws Crowds

BY ARTHUR J. SNIDER
Chicago Daily News Service
CHICAGO — The biggest crowd jams at the American College of Surgeons convention have occurred at the sessions dealing with drug treatment of cancer. There was standing room only.

The inference to be drawn: With surgery at about the limit of its present potential in cancer, more and more surgeons are looking to chemical means of fighting the disease.

They are exchanging their scalpels for a syringe and practicing medicine.

Dr. William D. Holden, professor of surgery at Western Reserve University, said the flood of interest in cancer chemotherapy is one of the "most unusual" aspects of the week-long meeting.

He spoke today at a panel discussion of "What's New in Surgery."

He said the interest of surgeons in cancer chemotherapy is not surprising since cancer has been one of the foremost areas of surgical attention.

Better Understanding
"Surgeons have built up a better understanding of the natural history of cancer than any other field of medicine," he said.

How does this form of internal medical practice square with the Administration Seeks Backing For Program

Republican Predicts Little Support in 10-City Conferences

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel, R-Kan., predicted that President Kennedy will get some disappointing political news about his program in a 10-city series of regional conferences next month.

Kennedy announced this week that meetings will be held in Chicago, St. Louis, Houston, Nashville, Detroit, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Los Angeles, beginning Nov. 7, to discuss four broad topics with civic, local and state officials.

In telegrams to governors and mayors, Kennedy said the topics to be covered will include full employment and economic growth, opportunities for youth, opportunities for senior citizens and opportunities for the nation's cities.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the administration is seeking "detailed information of the impact of legislation enacted in the last session of Congress in these areas."

Schoepel, a member of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in an interview he believes that teams of cabinet members that they think about to discuss domestic issues with local representatives will find many Kennedy proposals unpopular with the people.

"The people are going to be telling their senators and House members what they think about these programs," Schoepel said. "I think they will have more confidence in their elected representatives than in any political promises these teams make."

Seek Support
Administration spokesman had indicated clearly that efforts would be made to build up support for a general aid-to-education bill, for urban development, new ways of boosting employment and for medical care for the aged—all topics likely to highlight the next session of Congress.

Schoepel said he noted that no present effort is being made to sound out farmers on a new program to replace the one-year

Gamma Rays, a Nuisance Now, Have Some Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — The gamma rays that will be produced by nuclear power reactors in future space communications systems—formerly considered just a nuisance—may have a useful function after all.

In fact, a space scientist suggested that they might provide communications, for example, between a moon station and an earth satellite.

Until now, the gamma rays that the nuclear reactors will throw off have been considered a troublesome by-product. Their possible use for space communications was considered in a paper prepared for delivery to the International Astronautical Congress by the space scientist, Jozef W. Eerkens.

Eerkens, a communications engineer of Aerospace Corp., Los Angeles, said that because gamma rays are heavily scattered and absorbed in the atmosphere, they could not be used for earth communications. Instead, he said, they would be limited to communications in outer space.

Eerkens pointed out that since the nuclear power reactors employed in future space systems will produce large quantities of gamma rays, the generator costs and weights of such a communication system would be about zero.

Amherst Junction Family Has Guests

AMHERST — Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Bruley, Amherst Junction, were its failure to come up with a Dr. and Mrs. Frank Connor, Glenwood Park after all of the Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Axel 1960 campaign," Schoepel said.

More Meetings
The White House said another series of meetings will be scheduled soon in four or five additional cities at which other topics will be discussed. But it gave no other details.

Politicians generally regard the conferences as having been initiated by Kennedy in an attempt to broaden the base of support for his New Frontiers program, portions of which encountered rough handling from a conservative Republican-Southern Democratic coalition in the session which ended last month.

The White House said the conferences were requested by governors and mayors, but there were some clear indications that the prompting came from Kennedy. All of the states in which they will be held, except New York, have Democratic governors.

Former Convict Granted 3-Year Teaching Certificate

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — "I my record would jeopardize a didn't spend years working to child," Bay said. "Teaching is a ward a teaching goal just to go profession and must have stand-back to digging ditches," said Dean Bay, an ex-convict.

State School Supt. Louis Bruno gave Bay an opportunity Friday to do something else to support his wife and five children. He said, "I tried hard in the reformatory to improve myself. I didn't believe it when I heard some of them say, 'What's the use—you go outside and they kick you down.'"

"There is no advantage in having a program of rehabilitation in the ultimate end the rehabilitation is not permitted to do anything but dig ditches."

A teacher must be of good character, Bay said. But, he asked: "Is it required that he be a plastic saint who never has made a human mistake?"

New Bill Bars Salary Raise

Officials Can't Hike Own Pay While in Office

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Gaylord Nelson has signed bills barring local government bodies from raising their own salaries while in office and extending for two years their right to boost the pay of elected administrative officials. Eliminating the right of local government agencies to raise their own pay becomes effective in Milwaukee County with the beginning of a new term. In all other counties the statutory changes are effective immediately.

The governor also signed a bill which requires the Bureau of Personnel to report to the Legislature on night hours worked by state employees. Additionally, the act asks the Bureau to recommend a system of night differential pay for state workers.

A measure that would have allowed minors to enter dance halls where beer and liquor are sold was vetoed by the governor.

The bill would have dropped the 21 year old limit to 16.

"The bill has two undesirable features," the governor said. "First, it lowers the present restrictions on sale of intoxicating beverages in public places where minors are allowed to go. Second, this bill would encourage drinking by young people who drive automobiles at night, and this, in turn, would lead to increased highway fatalities."

Mediation Set In Peavey Strike

LADYSMITH (AP) — Officials of the Peavey Paper Mills and union leaders have agreed to meet with federal mediators Monday in an attempt to settle a strike which began at the plant Aug. 21.

Federal mediators said late Friday that the talks will be the first since Sept. 28.

Earlier Friday a union official, who was jailed overnight for firing a shotgun within earshot of the struck plant, was freed on $100 bond when arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Then he taught on a temporary certificate at a Weston, Ore., elementary school and became a lay Baptist minister. Weston school officials, the Chamber of Commerce at La Grande and Washington state parole officials supported his application for a permanent certificate.

Oregon turned him down. Last month Bay was accepted as a seventh-grade teacher in the that shotgun pellets could not possibly have carried as far as the Seattle while he wanted to see if Washington would let him continue.

Jandreys

It's great to be 95 and young at heart!

Not only young at heart, but in love! We love the towns we've grown up with, the salt-of-the-earth people who live here, the friendliness that surrounds us... we even love the climate — as all young-hearted Fox Citizens do! We are looking forward to our next 95 years with great expectations, but especially, we are looking forward to 1962.
